Standard Steel Spring Co. Purchases Plant Occupied Here

Announcement Made Today By Spring Company

Company Has Occupied Old New Castle Tin Mill For Several Years

PLANT EMPLOYING 250 AT PRESENT

Thomas C. McClain, Vice President of the Standard Steel Spring Company and General Manager Of the New Castle Plant announced today that his company had exercised the option on the plant and will take title to it immediately.

The company occupies the property which originally was the Greer tin mill and later the New Castle plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company.

For several years before the war,
the plant was idle and eventually the city and county took title to the plant and property under a trust-ship with W. Walter Duff named as trustee. Upon the death of Mr.
Duff, Norman Clarke was named trustee.

Occupied In 1942

The plant, which was first brought to the attention of Standard Steel Spring Company by the Greater New Castle Association was occupied by the company on February 16, 1942, but before it could get into production, the company had to repair and remodel the property.

During the war the local plant made an enviable record in the production of 500 and 1000 pound aerial

PA NEW OBSERVES

Some motorists are still carrying the gasoline stickers on their cars, which were used during the war,
Pa. New observes.

According to a report from Dave Wheeler of Union township, he has picked three ripe tomatoes from plants in his garden.

A visitor to The News office Wednesday was James Y. Miller of near Grove City, who had with him a cherished violin, one of the valuable Stradivarius instruments brought from Scotland by his grandfather, he told Pa. New.

Enroute to West Virginia to spend the Fourth, one Pa. New noticed many farmers who did not make it a holiday, but were out in the fields with their teams and tractors cutting their hay.

Pa. New is informed that Mark Must of 1504 Thorpe street has washed his car, and enjoyed cabbage out of his garden on July 1.

In a trip out of the city on Thursday, one Pa. New observed that highway travelers seemed to be extra careful and were not in that usual rush that is noted during a holiday. In a several hour trip, not one accident was noted in traveling through portions of three states in the area.

Despite the state-wide ban on explosives and firecrackers on the Fourth, loud reports were heard in some parts of the city on Thursday, indicating use of firecrackers of some kind.

Traffic on most of the routes around New Castle yesterday didn't appear to be up to expectations.
Drivers were apparently using caution also, as no serious accidents were reported in this district.

DISTRICT HAS SAFEST FOURTH IN HISTORY

(By International News Service)
The first post-war Fourth of July turned out to be one of the safest and sanest in Western Pennsylvania history.

A survey showed today that there wasn't a single holiday traffic fatality in the district, although the highways were jammed with motorists traveling to and from the many holiday celebrations.

Taking advantage of the ideal weather, thousands of persons were attracted to the various parks, pools and athletic events staged on the first peacetime Independence Day.
Thousands more flocked to community celebrations honoring the war veterans and the war dead.
Most communities finished the day with brilliant fireworks displays.

Tentative Date For Underwater A-Bomb Attack

Vice Admiral Blandy Announces Test Will Probably Occur July 27

REVISE ESTIMATES OF RECENT TEST

By FRANK E. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BIKINI, July 5.—Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy today set Saturday, July 27, as the tentative date for the second Bikini atom bomb explosion.

The admiral said that a dress rehearsal for the so-called "test baker" will be held July 19. The "baker" bomb will be detonated at a depth of approximately 50 feet in Bikini's 180-foot deep lagoon.

Blandy said he believes the underwater detonation may cause waves 50 to 70 feet high at the burst and that a flash will show above the water.

The admiral said he thought the waves caused by the explosion may

Immigration Quota Is Set

President Sets Quota For New Philippine Republic
At 100 Annually

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)— President Truman today fixed the future annual immigration quota for the Philippines republic at 100 beginning with the current fiscal year.

The President in his proclamation said that the quota was fixed under the immigration laws of 1924 and "is not to be regarded as having any significance extraneous to this subject."

Under the Philippines independence act of 1934 the islands were given a quota of 50 annually during the transition period.

Cargo Plane With Bikini Instruments Reaches Dayton

Encounter Severe Storm In Nebraska And Have Tough Time Riding It Out

WRIGHT FIELD, DAYTON, O.,
July 5.—(INS)—Air materiel command officers at Wright field disclosed today that invaluable data and instruments of the Bikini atom test were nearly lost when the plane carrying them was caught in a severe storm over Nebraska.

The plane, a huge C-54 cargo craft, landed safely at Wright field yesterday.

Its crew, veteran airmen, said the Nebraska blow was the worst they ever had encountered, adding that their escape was a "miracle."
Lt. Walter Hood of Ashland, a crew member, suffered a leg injury in flight.

U. N. Committee Is Framing Plan On Bomb Control

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—A new memorandum from the United States on control of the atomic bomb was expected today by the United Nations atomic energy subcommittee framing a program for international control of the powerful weapon.

The memorandum, requested by Commission Chairman Herbert V.
Evatt of Australia, is believed to contain elaborations of the American plan presented last week for an over-all atomic development authority to be created by treaty.
Compiles New Memorandum

Advisers of Bernard Baruch, United States delegate, spent the July 4 holiday compiling the new memorandum, conferring with Baruch frequently by telephone.

The agenda of today's closed subcommittee session was announced as (1) measures, system and organization of control to assure safe but peaceful uses of nuclear energy and (2) the relationship between such measures and functions assigned to the security council by the U. N. charter.

Airlines Strike Comes To End

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 5.—(INS)— Service of the Northwest Airlines was restored to normal today following the ending of a 36-hour strike by nearly 1,000 machinists and ground crewmen.

The strike was ended effective at 6 p. m. (CST) yesterday after word had been received that President Truman appointed a three-man emergency board to investigate the dispute.

Under provisions of the Railway Labor act, the board has 30 days in which to report its findings to the president.

The strike was called Wednesday by the International Association of Machinists to enforce demands for a wage increase of 18 1/2 cents an hour over the present basic wage of $12.6 an hour.

Flight service between 27 cities extending from coast to coast was halted by the walkout.

Prepare Plans For Peace Parley Opening July 29

Twenty-One Nation Peace Conference Scheduled To Take Place In Paris

BYRNES HAPPY
OVER DECISION

PARIS, July 5.—(INS)— Deputies of the Big Four foreign ministers met today to draw up the text of the invitations for the 21-nation peace conference which will be held in Paris beginning July 29.

When they complete their task the finished manuscript will be turned over to the four statesmen themselves for final approval.

Secretary of State James F.
Byrnes proposed that the invitations be sent out in the name of the "Big Five" thus China would be considered an inviting power. Russia, however, was said to have objected to inclusion of China.

The conference starting in Paris July 29 leaves the council of foreign ministers just two weeks to thrash out problems relating to Germany and Austria, and return home for brief rests.

On Today's Agenda

First item on today's agenda however, was the Italian reparations question the ministers solved their almost complete satisfaction at a late night session.

The solution gave Russia 100 million dollars in reparations from Italy over a seven-year period, with a three-year moratorium on payments.

But the Big Four failed to agree on how much of that sum will be paid out of future internal production and how much from Italian external assets.

President Is Enjoying Few Day's Vacation

THURMONT, Md., July 5.—(INS)—
After a day and a half of complete relaxation and loafing in these Blue Ridge foothills, President Truman today was well rested and ready to tackle the heavy burdens of responsibility that will confront him again when he returns to his White House desk.

The Chief Executive's Fourth of July was spent in a mood of care-freeness and relaxation.

He swam in the cold mountain pool at Shangri-La, the presidential retreat atop Catocchin mountain. He walked along mountain trails after breakfast. He napped in the early afternoon and finished up the late afternoon by reading.

Went To Movies

In the evening, after a good meal, he went to the movies with the First Lady—movies screened at his mountain lodge. The show was
"Anna and the King of Siam."

The Chief Executive, on his brief holiday, was keeping as far away from the heavy burdens of his office as possible.

But these burdens were not completely shut away, for his staff at the White House is keeping him informed from hour to hour of developments both on the national and international scenes. Direct telephone circuits link him with the White House switchboard.

The President also, at odd moments during the day and evening, worked on state papers.

Pittsburgh Has 'Sanest' Fourth

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—(INS)—
Pittsburgh celebrated its "sanest" Fourth of July in history, with only one serious accident reported.

No persons were killed in the city during the holiday but three men were injured in an auto accident.

GIs Stage Independence Day Parade In Frankfurt

GI Joseph McFarney, commander of U.S. forces in Germany, takes the salute as American troops pass his reviewing stand in an Independence day parade in Frankfurt.

City Really Celebrates "Safe And Sane" Fourth

Discounting mosquito bites, sunburns, scratches, bruises and sore muscles, this year's Fourth of July was celebrated around here without an accident.

On almost every road, traffic was heavy, with cars bearing the license plates of many states being seen.
Cascade park was swarming with the largest crowd of the summer, as were other swimming and picnic places such as McConnally Mills, Ramblers Rest, the New Wilmington park, etc. Other picnics were scattered along the rivers at a number of isolated places.

Many houses were filled with guests who overflowed onto the lawn to enjoy the fine weather, and in the evening the traffic was still heavy. By that time, people were either going home, or were out seeking less exhilarating amusement than rock-climbing and swimming.

Flags dotted the streets throughout the city, but the old-time atmosphere of the Fourth seemed to be lacking with the absence of noise-shattering explosives.

If any persons were injured, none of them had to be hospitalized.
There were no drowning and no auto accidents. Because there were few, if any, fireworks, there were no burns or injuries requiring antitoxin.

Somehow, the city managed to celebrate and still keep its head—and health. The holiday was really a Safe and Sane Independence Day.

Housewife Says She Shot Husband At His Request

COLUMBIA CITY, Ind., July 5.—
(INS)—A 32-year-old housewife was held today after telling police she shot and killed her husband at his request.

State police quoted Mrs. Flossie Walker as stating:

"He told me he'd rather be dead than go back to the veterans hospital at Marion, Ind."

Her husband, Roy, 54, a veteran of World War I, had been a patient at the Veterans Administration hospital where four attaches were recently indicted by a federal grand jury on charges that included throwing lighted cigarettes in patients' mouths.

Walker was killed in his Columbia City home by a blast from a 16 gauge shotgun.

County Highways Free Of Accidents

State police reported today that while there may have been one or two motor car accidents in Lawrence county July 4, the state police had received no reports of any,
and had not been asked to investigate any. They reported that traffic was quite heavy on Route 19 last night because of cars returning from lake resorts.

DONATE SALARY

SHAMOKIN, Pa., July 5.—(INS)— Chief Burgess Thomas F. Landry, blessed to give than receive.

He announced today that he had donated his $2000 year's salary for ground improvement in line with a political campaign pledge.

OPA Extension Bill Ready For Senate Action

Compromise One-Year
Measure Is Worked Out
By Senate Committee

STRONG OPPOSITION TO CONFRONT BILL

WASHINGTON, July 5.—
A new one-year OPA extension bill, believed acceptable to President Truman, was ready for senate action today but faced strong opposition.

The compromise, worked out Thursday by the senate banking and currency committee, would restore price and rent controls until June 30, 1947 and place again in effect OPA regulations in force last June 30, when the price control act expired.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley of Ky. said he would call the bill up this afternoon or Monday and would press for speedy action.

Taft Amendment Out

The bill is, in effect, the measure vetoed by President Truman, except that the Taft amendment is eliminated and the Wherry amendment is drastically revised. The committee approved it, 12 to 5, with Republicans Buck, Del. and Capahart, Ind., joining 10 Democrats to report it out.

The President in his veto message to Congress singled out the Taft and Wherry amendments for his major opposition, terming them highly inflationary.

Barkley substituted for the amendment of Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, one which he stated was acceptable to OPA Administrator Porter, who was closeted for five hours Thursday with the committee before a final decision was reached.

Taft commented that the Barkley amendment "is as good as nothing as far as I am concerned" and

Toll Bridge Decision To Be Appealed

HARRISBURG, July 5.—(INS)— Gov. Edward Martin announced today the commonwealth would appeal the decision which invalidated the state's 15-year-old fight to free 10 toll bridges in Pennsylvania.

The appeal will be initiated when the commonwealth files exceptions to the Dauphin county court's ruling which declared the acquisition program unconstitutional. Appeals must be filed within 10 days.

A spokesman for the justice department indicated the case would go before the state supreme court for final review.

A spokesman for the governor announced:

"Governor Martin has talked with Attorney General James H.
Duff and they agree that, due to the importance of the decision as it affects the program to free the toll bridges of Pennsylvania, an appeal should be taken.

"The appeal will be prosecuted with diligence."

Congratulations on yesterday's score, you lads and lassies who drive you're back from the trip and the car isn't scratched, and best of all, you're alive. You drove like ladies and gentlemen and the accident sheet said none, which is mighty fine and deserves a hand, when the weather is ninety-one. Now if only you'd drive for the rest of the year as you did on the glorious Fourth there'd be many a life and a lot of pains spared. Can you figure how much that is worth?

Granary Fires Being Probed

Second Damaging Blaze In Indiana Results In Start
Of Investigation

INDIANAPOLIS, July 5.—(INS)— Authorities today investigated the second of two granary fires in Indiana in two days after flames swept the Carthage Grain company elevator at Carthage, Ind.

The cause of the Carthage fire yesterday was not determined.

Authorities at Carthage said the elevator would have been holding considerably more wheat within a few days as the harvest is just getting under way.

The other Indiana blaze occurred in Huntington, near Fort Wayne, where a grain elevator was destroyed Wednesday.

Loss Is Heavy

The loss at the Huntington Grain and Lumber Co. elevator was estimated between $50,000 and $75,000.

The two fires occurred after a warning by the Santa Fe Railroad to guard against possible sabotage in wheat states, which include Indiana, Texas, Colorado and Kansas.

In Texas, a grain elevator at Quanah was destroyed Wednesday with a loss of 21,378 bushels of wheat.

The cause of this blaze, too, was undetermined.

H. A. Rupe, Santa Fe Railroad division freight agent at Wichita, Kan., said the company's agents had been instructed to warn mill and elevator owners against possible sabotage.

Rupe said there were rumors of "an organized and concerted effort today, tonight, and tomorrow to damage wheat in storage."

Boy Is Burned In Candle-Lighting Church Ceremony

SCRANTON, Pa., July 5.—(INS)—
Robert May, of Scranton, 16-year-old altar boy at St. Luke's church, was in the West Side hospital today suffering from burns sustained when his cassock caught fire while he was lighting candles during services.

A policeman and fireman attending Novena services for Mother Gabriel wrapped the boy in curtains to smother the flames. The youth was burned about his body, limbs and neck.

Firemen Called To Long Avenue

City firemen were called to the home of Robert McClure, of 723
East Long avenue, at 4:30 p. m.
July 3, when children left some shoe polish on the stove, which started to smoke. No action was required of firemen, Chief James E.
Thomas announces.

Illinois War Contracts Are Being Probed

Interest Of War Secretary And Congressman Are Being Investigated

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—Interest of Secretary of War Patterson and Chairman May D. Ky. of the House Military Affairs committee in a group of Illinois war contract companies was investigated further today by the Senate Mead committee.

Recalled to the stand at the committee's inquiry of profits on war contracts awarded Erie Basin Metal Products, Inc., Elgin, Ill., Batavia Metal Products, Inc., Batavia, Ill., and 14 affiliated concerns was William J. Brennan, a former colonel with the Army Service Forces.

Brennan's testimony linked both May and Patterson with Henry M. Garsson, who, with his brother, Murray Garsson, was a key figure in Erie Basin, Batavia and the other companies involved.

Meanwhile, Attorney General Clark revealed that the FBI was investigating the millions of dollars worth of war contracts awarded Erie and Batavia, termed "paper" firms because work on the contracts they won was done by subsidiaries and affiliates.

Records Available
Records of the committee investigation were made available to the FBI and the investigation.

Brennan introduced into the committee hearing record a February, 1945 memorandum from Patterson, then undersecretary of war, criticizing the War Manpower commission for setting a low manpower ceiling at Batavia.

According to Brennan, the memorandum stated that Henry M. Garsson had protested to Patterson about the proposed personnel cut, and contained the undersecretary's comment that "it seems silly to me for the War Manpower commission to split hairs in a case of this kind."

As read into the record, the memorandum was also quoted Patterson as saying:

"I will also be available for any assistance that may be needed."

Brennan said that he went to Batavia himself and got the manpower Garsson desired. He said this was difficult because "the locals (in Batavia) felt the Garssons were arrogant and uncooperative. They said they boasted that if they could not get what they wanted locally they could go to Washington and get it."

Another witness, Maj. Gen. William N. Porter, former chief of the chemical warfare service, said May asked him to intercede against proposed cancellation of a munitions contract with Batavia.

come from internal production—a last-minute boost from his previous demand for 50 percent.

Soviet Rejects Plan

His new figure came apparently with Soviet rejection of the ocean liners Saturnia and Vulcania, which Secretary of State Byrnes suggested to be part of the reparations.

The liners are now in New York harbor and are estimated to be worth about 25 million dollars.

Byrnes held out for a three-year moratorium to give Italy a chance to begin her recovery before starting payments. He termed Italy's present economic situation "desperate."

Byrnes, who has been advocating a July conference for weeks, is visibly fatigued from his efforts, but obviously happy over his achievement.

It was almost entirely through his efforts that Molotov finally agreed to setting a conference date before the reparations problem was settled.

The July 29 meeting will complete peace treaties for Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland.

Victorious Allied Nations which will attend are:

Australia, Belgium, Brazil, White Russia, Canada, China, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, France, Great Britain, Greece, and India, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, the Ukraine, the Union of South Africa, the Soviet Union, the U. S. and Yugoslavia.

China was included as a permanent member of the U. N. Security Council.

will come to an end, according to present plans, Sunday evening. With Mrs. Truman, he expects to motor back to Washington after supper early Sunday evening. There is a possibility, however, that he might remain at the retreat until early Monday morning.

Before he leaves, however, Mr. Truman probably will take a half day to motor to the nearby Gettysburg battlefields to look over the history ground where the Confederate invasion of the North was halted at the high tide of the Civil war.

Thursday morning, the President took a two-mile walk along mountain paths to the camp of the Marine unit which guards the presidential retreat.

Then he swam in the pool for 40 minutes. Relaxed, he napped for a couple of hours afterward.

TAKEN ILL

John Polka, aged 20, West Virginia, was taken ill in the 1000 block of Butler avenue at 1:30 p. m. July 4. Police, notified, took him to the Jameson Memorial Hospital. He was not hit by an auto, as was first reported.

B'Nai Brith Honors Memory On Marcus Feuchtwanger With Equipment And Plaque

Children of the Margaret L. Henry Home were made happy and the memory of a beloved late citizen of New Castle was honored Thursday afternoon July 4 when the B'Nai Brith lodge of New Castle presented the home with new playground equipment and also a plaque honoring the late Marcus Feuchtwanger. For many years until his death Mr. Feuchtwanger was president of the board of directors of the home.

Philip Weiner, president of the B'Nai Brith lodge opened the presentation ceremonies and introduced Alvin Shenken, chairman of the committee that raised the money needed for the equipment. Mr. Shenken told of Mr. Feuchtwanger's long time interest in the home and his continuing effort to improve it. Mr. Shenken then introduced Edward Haims, past president of the B'Nai Brith.

"We all know how close to the heart of Marcus Feuchtwanger was the Margaret L. Henry Home," said Mr. Haims. "We know of nothing we could have done to perpetuate his name and honor his humanitarian ideals and leadership of that would have pleased him more than B'Nai Brith project for the home. We shall always stand ready to serve the Margaret L. Henry Home."

"We are happy to have with us today Mr. Marcus Feuchtwanger, widow of our late friend. This presentation today honors the late husband of the gracious lady."

Mr. Haims then presented the playground equipment and the plaque to Charles W. Read, president of the board of directors who responded feelingly. Mr. Marcus Feuchtwanger was then presented and spoke briefly upon the work done by her late husband for the welfare of the home.

Included in the playground equipment are new swings, sliding board, jungle gym, see saw, giant slides, sand box, picnic tables and the like.

OPA EXTENSION
BILL READY FOR SENATE ACTION

Following the action of the committee, Barkley, patiently pleased, commented:

"I have every reason to believe it will be approved, but I have not talked to the President. I think this is a better bill."

Barkley added that Porter told the committee that "he thought the revised provisions in my amendment were workable and he could administer them. He stated he would not recommend a veto based on these two amendments."

Porter appeared in high spirits as he left the committee room.

The Barkley amendment, approved on a straight party division of nine to seven, provides that a manufacturing industry shall henceforth receive average 1940 prices plus increased costs.

It contains these other major provisions: (1) the OPA shall not be required to give a manufacturing industry an increased profit unless it can be shown that the upward revision in prices would boost production; (2) the OPA may, in determining current costs, take into consideration high costs resulting in a particular industry because of low production.

The Taft amendment provided that manufacturers would receive their October 1-10, 1941, prices plus increased costs since then. The President termed 1941 a high-price year.

The committee also accepted a Barkley substitute for the Wherry amendment. It provides that wholesalers and retail distributors shall receive current costs, plus the percentage markup or discount in effect July 29. The amendment offered by Sen. Wherry (R-Neb.) would have permitted the January 1, 1946 markup or discount.

The injured were removed through windows and taken to a hospital.

sweep over Bikini island's eight foot altitude from a point three miles from shore.

At the same time the chief of "operation crossroads" announced that the estimate of the strength of last Monday's overhead atomic burst is being revised upward. He said that "refinements" of technical measurements show that the "test" atomic bomb was closer to the strength of the Nagasaki bomb than was believed earlier.

Survey crews, meanwhile, continued to record the finest details of ship damage caused by the aerial burst. Divers will begin studying and photographing the test within the next few days. Blandy said that it will not be necessary to move the Sunken hulks for the underwater test.

The admiral said the target pattern for test Baker was tentatively set in a conference with the evaluation board of the joint chiefs of staff and that a great amount of underwater instrumentation is planned there for the first test, he added.

Attack Against Hulls

"The underwater burst is primarily an attack against the hulls whereas the overhead was primarily against the topsides."

The admiral previously announced that four ships would be clustered in the target center for the underwater test but that no ship would be directly above the bomb.

He denied that Bombardier Harold Wood made a miss of "appreciable dimensions" in the Monday test and also declared that loss of instruments on sunken ships did not hurt the value of the experiment. Blandy said:

"Our plans anticipated the possibility of a miss of appreciable dimensions and that the bomb might go wider of the mark than the practice average. Duplicate instruments were set."

No official statement is to be made as to exactly where Major Wood's bomb exploded but it is rumored that he may have missed the bullseye by five hundred yards or more.

Budget Bureau Is Overridden By President

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—President Truman, it was disclosed today, has overridden the budget bureau and given his approval to legislation granting reserve and national guard officers retirement pay based on inactive as well as active duty.

Brig. Gen. E. A. Evans, director of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States, told a senate military sub-committee that Mr. Truman reversed the budget bureau upon the intervention of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, White House military aide.

The budget bureau, Evans testified, reported that a proviso giving reserve officers retirement credits for inactive duty was "not in accord with the program of the president."

Evans said he immediately called Vaughan at the White House and that Vaughan authorized him to say that "President Truman stated that he is in accord with the retirement provision."

Gen. Vaughan served in the same artillery battery with Mr. Truman during World War I.

The pending bill, a redraft now endorsed by the war department and all reserve organizations, would give reserve personnel for the first time retirement pay at a rate of two and a half per cent times the years of active duty, plus one half of one per cent times the years on inactive duty.

It requires a minimum of 29 years spent in reserve status with retirement pay starting at age 60.

Ryan was off duty and in civilian clothes when the shooting began. He walked to Chester hospital where he was detained for treatment.

How Sudden Death Of Price Control Is Seen On Coast

CRESCENT CITY, Calif.—Like many another American city, including Washington, this little west coast fishing, lumber and lily bulb town viewed the sudden death of the office of price administration with mingled emotions.

Opinions as to the likely effect on local lives varied widely. Some think it was a good thing. Others view it as little short of a major calamity and still others express doubt that it made a great deal of difference whether OPA died now or later.

But there was one element common to all of the comments—an attitude, incidentally, which this reporter has found gaining ground throughout the nation.

Suspicious Of "Other Fellow"
We are all suspicious of the "other fellow."

Joe Klien, ex-Navy man who runs the Del Norte pharmacy here, is a typical example. Joe's idea is that the end of all price ceilings spells ruinous inflation, drastic devaluation of the dollar and eventual nationwide depression.

What immediate effect will it have on his prices? "None," said Joe. "Not until they force me to."

By "they," he referred to manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers who he feels will take immediate advantage of the end of OPA to jack up their prices on the 15,000 to 20,000 sundry items he handles in the store.

People Know Prices
"But can I jump the prices accordingly?" he said. "No, people know what these items have been costing and they'll raise the very dickens if a bar of soap or a tube of toothpaste starts costing more money, and they'll blame me—not the guys up the line."

Thus Joe feels that he personally won't raise prices to cash in on the lifting of ceilings but is afraid that "they" will force him to do so eventually, if he wants to stay in business.

Sam Wilson, local lumberman and hotel owner, believes, on the other hand, that the end of OPA was a wonderful thing. Furthermore, he thinks the resultant inflation will be short lived and "was inevitable anyway."

OPA Just Postponed
"OPA just kept postponing it," he said, "and a lot of the inflation was there anyway on the black market. This gives everybody an even break. And I'll bet you that within six months production is back in swing, the old supply and demand law has leveled prices off and things will look pretty good."

Sam said that after the immediate spurge in lumber prices for instance, competition will pull the figures back down to a "sensible level." And in the meantime, "people with any sense will refuse to pay the high prices and wait until they come down."

Does Sam intend to raise his hotel room rates? His answer echoes Joe's.

"Unless They Force Me To"
"No," he said. "Not unless they force me to."

His "they" is a little more vague, roughly, he refers to increased wages, higher costs for laundry, furnishings, linens and the like. Now, his hotel is full every night and he's making a decent profit. That's all he asks but if he's forced well—

Ed Smith, who runs the Luaff Coffee Shop, is a blunt man who would like to have "helped swing the axe on OPA."

He's been a restaurant man for more than thirty years now, and the last few were the worst, due largely, he thinks, to OPA's "blundering."

"We all were in favor of it at first," he said, "but it's been a mess. We'll be better off without it."

"Get It Over With"
He thinks the coming inflationary period might last as long as a year and a half, but like some believes it was inevitable and "we might as well get it over with."

He agrees with Joe to the extent of thinking that a good "sensible" system of price control would have been better than throwing the thing wide open, but says OPA failed in that respect.

All three men agreed on a couple of points as did most of the people questioned locally.

Hardest hit during the next few months will be the "white collar worker" who is unorganized and "has nothing to sell." And the housewife will find things toughest of all. Especially the wife of a medium-salaried man.

Does Ed intend to raise his food prices? You guessed it. "No," he said, "not unless they push wages and the prices of the things I buy up so much that I have to. They probably will, though, at that."

There you are, boys and girls. Figure it out for yourselves.

Open Defense In Seattle Spy Trial

Russian Naval Lieutenant To Present His Defense Against U. S. Charges

SEATTLE, July 5.—(INS)—Defense attorneys in the spy trial of Russian Naval Lieut. Nicolai G. Redin opened their case today after hearing Federal Judge Lloyd L. Black rule that the prosecution has given sufficient evidence for a verdict.

After a holiday recess from eight days of grueling trial, the 30-year-old accused Russian officer will be making his first appearance on the stand today. He could be sentenced to death if found guilty of conspiracy to get secret naval data for the U. S. to Russia.

The defense is expected at an early date to play to a packed courtroom the dictaphone records of Redin's private talks with Herbert Kennedy, government's star witness who as a trial engineer at a shipyard, says the Russian attempted to buy naval secrets from him. The defense has obtained a subpoena for Harry G. Maynor, chief of the Seattle FBI, to produce the records, which were obtained by wiring the Kennedy home in Seattle.

Defense Attorney Tracy E. Griffin said he did not think the conversations as they are heard by the jury will convict Redin as he is thoroughly convinced of the Russian's innocence.

DATELESS SEVENTEEN
"My daughter is an attractive girl of seventeen, but is always bashful in the presence of boys and therefore is not popular. Please advise me what to do."

Typical of many complaints I have received from mothers is this. Such an inferiority complex and lack of self-possession are usually the fault of an over-cautious mother who has cloistered her young daughter and deprived her of the normal social life of children—attending parties and generally enjoying the companionship of their contemporaries.

During the early years, they learn social graces, acquire poise, self-possession, the art of repartee with the opposite sex. Indeed, from their very babyhood, children should be trained to meet people, without fear, so that when they reach their teens, they will be able to conduct their small but oh-so-important social affairs with ease.

There is no greater mental suffering than that of the adolescent with an inferiority complex. Mothers should try to curb this tendency at its beginning.

Urge your daughter to get into circulation. Get her a record player and good records (even if you drive yourself mad) have a well-supplied larder and encourage her to have the "gang" from school come over for a few dances and a snack every now and then.

Girls with hospitable parents who give them carte blanche on entertaining their friends are usually popular with both sexes. Teen-age boys are usually low on spending money, so consequently like girls who invite them to sit in for an evening now and then.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

More Charges Are Piled Up Against Chicago Student

Suspect In Kidnap-Murder Of Suzanne Degnan Accused Of Many Offenses

CHICAGO, July 5.—(INS)—Charges allegedly committed by William Heirens, 17-year-old University of Chicago student held as a suspect in the kidnap-murder of Suzanne Degnan, six, mounted today as police continued to investigate his activities.

Police Capt. Michael Ahern said seven more burglary victims, had identified stolen property found in Heirens' room on the university campus.

In County Jail

The young prisoner was reported "relaxing and resting" in the Cook county jail hospital. He told attendants yesterday that he no longer was bothered by a headache, and was "feeling a little better."

Heirens is being held in lieu of bonds, totaling $270,000 on 22 charges of burglary, one of assault to murder and three of assault to kill.

He has denied any connection with the slaying and dismemberment of the Degnan child even though one of his finger prints and a palm print were identified as identical to those found on a $20,000 ransom note left by the kidnaper. Assistant State's Attorney Edmund Grant said the youth could be sentenced to life imprisonment if convicted on the burglary and assault charges.

Norah Carpenter And Children Arrive In U. S.

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—Norah Carpenter arrived in the United States by plane today from England to marry William (Red) Thompson, the father of her internationally famed quadruplets.

Miss Carpenter and the three surviving children of the multiple birth left their Pan-American plane at La Guardia airport at 6:32 a. m. (EDT).

She was met by two representatives of Thompson but her only question was: "Where is Red?" Thompson, former sergeant from Pittsburgh, was to meet her later after she had passed through "customs."

Passengers on the air-liner said that the three children, now two years old, had been ideal fellow-travelers on the Trans-Atlantic trip.

MEET'S "GODDESS", DIVORCED BY WIFE

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—(INS)—Dorothy W. Hulmer, of Pittsburgh, Wednesday was granted a divorce from her husband, Eric, because he "found a lovely Norwegian goddess to make love to."

Mrs. Hulmer testified before Judge Russell H. Adams that they were married at Camp Bowie, Texas, and were happy until the army sent her husband to Norway.

A letter arrived soon after Hulmer landed in which he told his wife that he met the "goddess."

Parachute Jumper Falls To His Death

SALAMANCA, N. Y., July 5.—(INS)—Death from the sky today had claimed a second member of the "Flying Allens", a parachute jumping team from Batavia, N. Y. Warren Allen, 42, whose troupe at one time included a son and a daughter and who had made several hundred successful jumps, was fatally injured when he fell 50 feet from a trapeze slung from an ascending balloon during a holiday exhibition.

His daughter, Gloria, 17, was killed in a similar accident at Batavia six years ago.

Capitol Hill Is Rumor Factory

Many Wild Rumors Gain
Start At State Capital Is Report

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, July 5.—(INS)—“Rumor factory” in Pennsylvania... in a matter of minutes, the wildest rumor, imaginable sweeps from one end of the Capitol to the other... Some gossip-hungry employees pass on rumors without stopping to think while others add embellishments. On the other hand, sometimes the grapevine hears something through sources not accessible to newsmen and passes it along. By and large, 90 per cent of the word-of-mouth reports can be discounted. It is the 10 per cent that sometimes tips off newsmen to a story worth all the worthless rumors...

Legislative committees of state-wide organizations and governmental agencies have started to draft programs for presentation to the general assembly next year. If certain proposals have the earmarks of popular legislation some lawmakers lose no time in indicating their willingness to be the sponsor. There are some legislators who introduce legislation merely for publicity. Generally speaking, however, assemblymen are hard-working people who more than earn the $3,000 they are paid for each regular session.

Legislation ordered by the general assembly to codify antiquated laws is being whipped into shape by special sub-committees of the joint state government commission.

The fact-finding agency has 10 sub-groups studying problems ranging from the efficiency of the state fish and game commission to the taxing status of co-operatives. State school and local government commissions have scrutinized subsidy problems and other financial matters affecting local subdivisions. The recommendations usually reach the legislative hopper in what is called an “omnibus bill.”

Several of the statewide organizations which have announced part of their programs included the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (AFL), the Pennsylvania State Education Association, the state federation of sportsmen's clubs, the Pennsylvania Council of Public Employers (AFL) and various organizations of veterans.

Expect Small Crop Of Sour Cherries

HARRISBURG—Pennsylvania is one of the five important eastern sour cherry producing states and the estimated crops for 1946, as of June 15, was placed at 3,000 tons, according to an announcement by the State Department of Agriculture. The sour cherry crop this year is only 600 tons less than in 1945 and only one-third as large as the 9,000-ton crop of 1944. It is the second smallest crop in 6 years, the 2,900 tons produced in 1943 being the smallest in that period.

Doctors To Hear New Treatments

Methods Of Treating Most Troublesome Diseases To Be Outlined

CONVENTION AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—(INS)—News treatment methods of mankind's most troublesome diseases were scheduled for presentation today at the closing day of the American Medical Association convention.

Attention centered in a panel discussion on "what's new in cancer, arthritis, tropical medicine, virus diseases and other major ailments."

Dr. Olin West of Chicago, former secretary-general manager of the AMA, was chosen president-elect to take office in 1947.

The only contest was for the powerful position of speaker of the house of delegates, the policy-making body, which saw the incumbent, Dr. R. W. Polk of Omaha, defeat Dr. Lowell S. Goin of Los Angeles.

Cheer Predictions
Delegates cheered Dr. West as he predicted a triumph for free medicine against government attempts at "regimentation." He denounced persons who claim an "hierarchy" controls the AMA and asserted the AMA was on the "offensive not the defensive."

The 72-year-old former Tennessee health officer told the delegates: "It were not for the efforts of the American Medical Association—the persistent efforts—the chances are that instead of still fighting the Wagner bill (the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill which proposes national health insurance) we would have been victims of the bill seven years ago."

"We are on the offensive against fraud, in the dissemination of practical and scientific knowledge to the public, in promoting public health and in defending medicine against the evils of regimentation."

Officers Selected
Dr. Edward L. Boritz of Philadelphia, former navy commander, was chosen vice-president and officers re-elected included George F. Lull, former deputy army surgeon general in charge of ETO surgery, secretary-general manager, Dr. J. J. Moore of Chicago, treasurer, and Dr. F. F. Borzell of Philadelphia, vice-speaker.

The house of delegates' final assembly passed resolutions urging states to improve the care of the mentally sick; opposing any United Nations interference in medical care within a nation; and commending the Taft-Smith-Bell health bill with "modifications."

The delegates chose Atlantic City for their 1947 convention, St. Louis for 1948 and New York provisionally for 1949.

In the scientific sections of the convention doctors heard an evaluation of the new drug BAL (British Anti-Lewisite).

Drs. Marvin B. Sulzberger and Rudolph L. Baer of New York told the delegates that the drug, developed in England to fight poison gas, had proved an effective antidote for arsenical poisons.

Westinghouse To Probe Atom Secret

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—(INS)—A broad program of research into nuclear physics and the problems of converting atomic energy into peaceful uses has been planned by scientists at the Westinghouse research laboratories in Pittsburgh.

First step in the program was already underway with the modernization of the company's 65-foot-high "atom smasher."

Dr. W. E. Shoup, who will direct the postwar program, said: "We are making no basic changes in the apparatus. Rather we are taking advantage of improvements worked out in the past few years which will make the atom smasher more efficient and easier to run."

Dr. Shoup pointed out that wartime atomic knowledge "added to prewar discoveries will provide a firm foundation" for further atomic knowledge. He added:

"Basically, we are concerned with the laws of force which hold together the atomic building blocks in all forms of matter."

Before the war the atom-smasher was capable of building up a potential of 4,000,000 volts of electricity to hurl electrified particles against a target at speeds of between 30 million and 100 million miles an hour.

CITY ANTI-TOXIN CASES NIL JULY 4

Anti-toxin station in the city, operated under the jurisdiction of the state, did not have one case to treat as the city passed another safe and sane Fourth of July.

The stand-by station, located in McKinley and Frantz drug store, was installed to administer anti-toxin treatment to persons suffering from powder burns which could result in lock-jaw.

With the banning of pyrotechnics in the city, traffic has been light to the local station.

Maj. Gen. McAuliffe Much Impressed By Atom Bomb Result

BIKINI LAGOON, July 3.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Anthony McAuliffe, who replied "nuts" to the German surrender demand in a hopeless-looking situation at Bastogne, feared today that even the United States might fold up if hit by atomic bombs.

The famed paratroop leader said: "I think if we had the atomic bomb, the Germans might have quit before Europe was invaded—though I must say the Germans could take it."

McAuliffe, as crossroads adviser on ground troop material, witnessed the atomic burst and made a trip of the lagoon to inspect army equipment on the decks of target ships. He was obviously impressed with the power of the bomb and said:

"The bomb measured up to my expectations in damage but not as a spectacle. I think any personnel within 600 or 800 yards of the burst would have been casualties."

The general said, however, that if appeared that tanks and guns were undamaged even on the hillsides Nevada and the battered Arkansas, but pointed out that the atom bomb was a "strategic weapon" for use against war industries and railroads rather than at the front.

Attlee Will Make Australia Visit

LONDON, July 5.—(INS)—British Prime Minister Attlee was said today to be adhering to his decision to visit Australia, even though his travelling schedule will bring him "down under" just one day before the proposed general peace conference in Paris.

Informed London sources do not believe either President Truman or Premier Stalin will attend the July 29 meeting.

They feel that most of the 21 allied nations will be represented in Paris by foreign ministers.

Woman Regains Her Eyesight After Lightning Effect

EMPORIUM, Pa., July 5.—Mrs. Austin Jones, 68, of this place, who lost her sight when her home was struck by lightning Monday, has regained her normal vision. It was reported today. The bolt followed the chimney and aerial into the house. The pipe from the kitchen stove was hurled across the room, and the radio set was burned out.

Mrs. Jones was knocked to the floor by the lightning, and was partially paralyzed for several hours. She also lost the sight of both eyes, one of which was slow in returning to normal vision.

It was reported that three road crew members at West Creek were hurled to the ground by lightning. They were not seriously hurt.

early today at the Bethlehem Steel Company's Lackawanna plant.

Company executives and leaders of the CIO United Steel Workers withheld comment. Workmen said however that blast furnace employees refused to return to work while "a certain foreman" was in charge.

A layoff of all 14,500 employees of the plant is threatened unless the dispute is settled within 24 hours.

Army Air Ace Dies In Crash

Married Less Than 24 Hours, Widow Sees Lieut. Col.
John Herbst Crash

DEL MAR, Cal., July 5.—(INS)—Army authorities today pressed an investigation into the P-80 jet plane crash that claimed the life of Lieut. Col. John C. Herbst, leading China theater army air ace, in the view of his bride of less than 24 hours.

Col. Herbst's widow, Actress Jeanne E. Murphy of New York, was one of 30,000 spectators at an army air show over the San Diego county fair grounds yesterday who watched his plane stall in a loop and crash at the nearby Del Mar race track.

Set Speed Record
Col. Herbst, 36, who married Miss Murphy at the Mission Inn, Riverside, Cal., was alive when taken from the wreckage but died en route to San Diego naval hospital. Credited with 27 Jap planes, Col.

Herbst set an unofficial speed record of 10 minutes 17 seconds from San Diego to Los Angeles in a P-80 last Feb. 6.

Calls On World Jewry To Assist Palestine Efforts

JERUSALEM, July 5.—(INS)—Irgun Zvai Leumi, militant Jewish underground organization, cabled, on world Jewry today to participate in its "war for the liberation of Palestine."

Leaders of the extremist group kept faith with British authorities yesterday by releasing three officers who were held as hostages until death sentence, on two underground fighters were commuted.

The Britons were set free in spectacular style—dumped crated but unharmed in front of the British Institute building in Tel Aviv.

Their release was followed almost immediately by a statement from Irgunists that they intend to oppose every effort to thwart making the Holy Land a Jewish national homeland.

Poland Moves To Prevent Renewal Of Fierce Pogrom

WARSAW, July 5.—(INS)—Poland moved swiftly today to prevent nation-wide renewal of its fiercest anti-Jewish pogrom since the liberation.

Army troops were placed on a 24-hour alert, and security police rushed to great population centers. Armed gangs of "hoodlums" in Kielce were officially charged with killing 26 Jews and two other Polish Nationals.

Unofficial estimates placed fatalities from a nightmare day of Jewish hunting at more than 50 with "well over 100" other persons injured. Several security police were hurt while attempting to aid the victims.

A government spokesman attributed the Kielce outbreak to anti-semitic propaganda distributed by Fascist organizations. He related them to the recently-concluded Polish referendum.

The San Francisco earthquake was responsible for the loss of 500 lives, and a cost of $400,000,000.

Swank Country Club On Coast Destroyed

GLENDALE, Cal., July 5.—(INS)—Fire department investigators today sought the origin of a fire that in 20 minutes destroyed the swank Oakmont Country club yesterday at an estimated loss of $250,000.

Flames crackled in the clubhouse lounge while the club's fairways were jammed with holiday golfers. Nine fire companies unsuccessfully battled the fire.

The 225-foot-long English Tudor structure was purchased by W. W. Crenshaw, banana merchant and race horse fancier, in 1934.

HARRISBURG—P. F. C. Michael Wharton was rather red in the face after he battered the rear of an automobile during the nervous excitement on a speedy trip to the hospital. He had insisted that nervous relatives of the patient stay home.

LIGONIER—Mrs. Rhoda Hegan refused hospitalization when she injured a toe, smiled gamely when stung by a bee but gave up when she mashed several fingers in a wringer.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schuller Of Grant Street Get Message From French Family

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schuller of 804 W. Grant street have received a letter from a French family, named Collins, with whom their son, Cpl. Henry Schuller, stayed while in their neighborhood, enclosing pictures of Henry's grave in an American cemetery in Belgium.

Cpl. Schuller was first reported as missing in action on January 19, 1945 and was later revealed to have been killed on that date.

The Collins family informed Mr. and Mrs. Schuller that they would take care of their son's grave as long as they live. The Schuller family is very grateful for the remembrance and the kind wishes of their French allies.

Scientists Criticize Bikini Atom Bomb Tests Against Ships

Declare Underwater Experiment Is Only One That Really Matters

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(INS)—The Federation of American Scientists today criticized the Bikini atom bomb test against naval vessels as unnecessary extravagance and declared that next year's underwater experiment will be the only one that matters.

W. A. Higginbotham, federation chairman, declared that scientists resent the implication in some quarters that they are interested in knowing what the bomb would do. He said they are concerned only with development of nuclear energy for medicine and peaceful power. Higginbotham issued the critical statement on behalf of the scientific federation.

He asserted that in the second test, later this month, which will be virtually a surface explosion "much water will be rendered radio active and this danger will be unpredictably carried away by currents." His assertion was based on studies made by scientists at Los Alamos, N. M., and elsewhere.

Higginbotham said federation scientists also wished to make the point that the just completed test in the Bikini lagoon "does not even concern itself with fundamental issues." He said:

"The great crossroads before mankind today is not whether navies can survive, but whether civilization can survive. The American people will pay for turning old battleships into hulks and blasting a tropical lagoon into a deadly mess. But can humanity afford the greater price it will cost to shatter the cities and cultures of the world?"

Higginbotham contended that besides military reasons for holding the test "there will be nothing learned of value to peacetime uses which could not have been learned much more cheaply and more accurately in laboratory tests with less of a circus atmosphere."

Farmers Demand More Comfort In New Equipment

DETROIT, Mich.—(INS)—American farmers are demanding "an cushion" comfort while working in the fields.

The men whose lot has been improved progressively with numberless developments down through the mechanical age, are greeting the atomic age with a request that industry produce more comfortable seats for tractors and other farming implements.

It all started when the "easy-riding" one-man seat used in tanks during the war was adapted to use on tractors. The word got around that the farmer need no longer spend uncomfortable hours on metal tractor seats while tilling the soil. He might even work long hours in the field in comparative luxury.

Many Ex-GIs
Many of these men are ex-GIs and they take the viewpoint there can be a comfortable seat on a tractor if one can be installed in a tank. Hundreds of farmers reasoned that if tank seats could be modified for use on tractors, then they could be made adaptable to other types of farm machinery whose operation entails long hours of sitting.

Consequently, some 100,000 farmers deluged the manufacturer of the seat, an auto equipment company at Monroe, with requests for "easy-riding" seats.

The mechanism which underwent the ultimate in smoothing out the vibrations caused by tank treads has been applied to the new tractor seats. This is described as a combination of the action of "two-way" hydraulic shock absorbers, variable rate coil springs and stabilizers.

SENIORS' MISTAKE
CHICAGO.—(INS)—One of the most serious mistakes parents make in rearing children is in over-use of the word "don't," an education professor believes. Prof. C. E. Peterson of Northern Illinois State Teachers college, said most of the "don'ts" are meaningless and prevent a child from learning self-direction through experience plus parental suggestion.

BETTER PRESSING AIDS WELL-DRESSED PERSON

Well-pressed garments are the signs of a well-dressed person. Miss McClain suggests that more and better pressing can be done if some simple homemade pressing cushions are used.

One of the most useful pressing aids is the ham cushion. This is a rounded cushion about 12 to 15 inches long, about 9 inches wide at one end, and tapering to about 3 inches at the other end.

When making this cushion, cut two pieces by the measurements listed above, stitch, and then fill tightly with well-dried sawdust, wool scraps, or cotton. A second cover can be made to go over the pad so that it can be removed for washing.

This curved pad provides rounded surfaces of different widths which make pressing of many different parts of a garment much easier. It is particularly useful for pressing shoulders of men's suit coats, the top of coat sleeves, the waist section of a closely fitted dress, the curved seams at the top of skirts, etc. It is invaluable for pressing darts and curved seams when making new garments.

Another useful pressing aid is the pressing mit. It can be purchased ready-made at some notion counters, or it can be made easily at home. It is a small pad, about the size and shape of the hand and stuffed about an inch thick with wool scraps or cotton.

The pressing mit should be well filled but yet soft enough so that it will curve and bend with the hand as is needed to fit the various spots to be pressed. An extra piece of fabric is sewed to the back of the mit so that the hand will fit into it. The pressing mit is very useful for pressing collars, tops of sleeves or for a quick touch-up job.

BEAN BEETLES OUT IN LARGE NUMBERS

Bean beetle adults, beginning to make their appearance in large numbers in early bean fields, are now laying eggs which soon will be hatching into spiny larvae—voracious insects which can cause serious damage unless controlled.

The only satisfactory control for bean beetles is the application of three-fourth per cent rotenone dust, preferably during the afternoon or early evening, with the dustier adjusted to give the under sides of leaves good coverage.

An important control measure in the war on bean beetles is the destruction of all early bean vines immediately after the last picking to keep down the infestation on late plants.

Plenty Of Game Is Available As Source Of Meat

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—With a worldwide food shortage, America can thank its game conservation program for maintaining a substantial backlog of game. In the anticipated domestic food crisis game may be the difference for many families between having or not having meat, according to M. B. Allen, hunting authority of Western-Windchester division of Olin Industries, Inc.

Except for the nation's enlightened conservation program which has grown progressively more effective, all of the game might have gone the way of the passenger pigeon, and we might face the coming fall season with our game resources depleted. Luckily, sportsmen have joined with farmers and various government agencies to maintain reasonably stable game crops for one year to another. The hunter who may have complained because of the relatively small size of his bag limit can now thank the conservation measures which will make such game as ducks, geese, quail, rabbits, and larger game available to provide peeded variety to his diet this fall, Allen said.

Yet, even with bag limits, hunters were cautioned by Allen to use dogs when taking to the field during the hunting season so that every bird or animal shot can be retrieved and made to serve its purpose in maintaining to the maximum his family's well-balanced diet.

STILL GOING STRONG

FOSTORIA, O.—(INS)—One of the nation's oldest practicing physician's, Dr. J. H. Norris, 91, is looking forward to his 70th year of service to Fostoria.

The waters of the Saguenay river, in Canada, appear almost as black as ink. This is due to the shadow of the huge treeless cliffs along its edges. Some of these cliffs are almost 1,000 feet in height and the precipitancy of the banks continues below as well as above the water.

Under the British Women's Volunteer Service rehousing gift project nearly 60,000 bombed-out families have been given furniture and cooking utensils.

An Australian coot, believed to have flown from Australia to New Zealand, has been shot, mounted, and placed in the Canterbury Museum in New Zealand.

Hobbs Bill Is Given Approval By President

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Overruling union objections, President Truman on Wednesday signed the Hobbs bill—the first labor law enacted in his administration.

It makes it unlawful for unionists, in common with anyone else, to interfere with interstate commerce by extortion or robbery.

The President and Attorney General Tom C. Clark issued assurances that it cannot be construed to interfere with strikes, picketing or other legitimate union activities. The contention that it could be so construed formed the chief objection of the A. F. L., the C. I. O., and individual unions and labor officials who have fought it for more than three years.

The act, by Representative Sam Hobbs (D, Ala.), constitutes an amendment of the 1934 anti-racketeering act. The Supreme Court has ruled in 1942 in a case involving the A. F. L. Teamsters' union, that the act as it stood could not be applied to alleged extortion committed by union members.

A provision to subject unions to the act, along the lines of the Hobbs bill, was embodied in the Case labor disputes measure. In vetoing that bill June 11, Mr. Truman wrote that he is "in full accord with the objectives" of the section but that it failed to safeguard legitimate union activities.

The Senate subsequently passed the separate Hobbs bill, which the House earlier had approved, and the President declared that this meets his previous objections. Mr. Truman explained his action in a message to Congress.

Garden Notes

By Lewis C. Dayton, County Agent

HARVEST PEAS FROM GARDEN QUALITY RATHER THAN GROWTH

With the time for harvesting peas from vegetable gardens at hand it is wise to pick the peas for quality, rather than waiting for size of growth. Peas mature quickly and do not remain so long in edible stages, so they must be watched closely.

Warm, moist weather, such as has been prevalent recently, is ideal for quick maturing of peas. For that reason, gardens should be inspected almost daily, in order to pick the peas when they are at the best quality. Peas are ready for picking when the pods are filled with seeds. Waiting until the pods reach normal size may result in hard peas, in which the sugar has turned to starch.

Pick often since early varieties with round pods often turn a grey-white in color within a few days, indicating they have passed their best quality. These early varieties include Little Marvel, Thomas Laxton, World Record, and other round-podded types.

Later varieties, such as Alderman and Telephone, remain edible longer than the round-podded types, but should also be harvested early, just before reaching full growth for best quality.

Peas should be cooked for table use or canned within a half-day after they have been picked, in order to retain the best quality.

Too many gardeners fail to realize that after the pods appear, peas may be ready for harvesting in 2 to 3 days if the proper growing conditions exist. Neglecting the peas for a few days may mean the difference between a real delicacy from the garden and a crop of unsavory peas.

R. F. C. Defended By Jesse Jones

Former Chairman Spearheads Defense Against Charges Aimed At R. F. C.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—Former Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones today spearheaded the defense of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation against charges that the huge multi-billion dollar lending agency kept lax books.

Jones, former chairman of the R. F. C., charged that an attack by a general accounting office official on R. F. C. lending method was an "attempt to play the part of David slaying Goliath."

Jones vigorously criticized testimony of T. Coleman Andrews, GAO director of corporation audits, before the House expenditures committee.

The one-time cabinet member said Andrews' charges were unsupported and unjustified, and that they were made "at a time calculated purposely, in my opinion, to damage the R. F. C."

Jones declared that Andrews reported "nothing in connection with the R. F. C. worthy of criticism in an operation covering more than $50,000,000,000 of money authorizations in every imaginable field and over a period of 14 years."

In addition, Jones expressed belief that Andrews' attack on the R. F. C. stemmed from a law requiring GAO to make an audit report on all federal agencies to Congress by January 15, 1946, Jones said.

"General accounting office evidently found it could not make such an audit report within anything like the time specified."

"Therefore, to excuse themselves, Mr. Andrews made a blast of R. F. C. that is unworthy of the general accounting office or the accounting profession."

SLUGGED AND ROBBED

Beaver Bus Strike May Be Settled

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—(INS)—Settlement of the strike of the Beaver Valley Bus line, which threatens a major sympathy walkout in the Pittsburgh district, was expected today by a union official.

William L. Robinson, international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, said things look "very good" after receipt of an offer from the bus company. He declared that he believed the offer would be acceptable to the striking drivers.

Robinson said a meeting of the drivers will be held today to discuss the company proposal. If it is acceptable, he added, service will be resumed tomorrow morning.

Earlier Robinson had announced that unless the strike was settled within two weeks, a sympathy walkout would be called in Pittsburgh.

Jap Executioners Stood Only Six Feet From Victims

SHANGHAI, July 5.—(INS)—A military war crimes commission in Shanghai was informed today that Japanese executioners stood only six feet from their victims when they shot 14 American fliers.

Dr. Marushima, Japanese physician who was present at the executions, testified that the American fliers were blindfolded with black cloth.

White bullseyes were painted on the blindfolds, marking a vital spot over the forehead of each flier.

The American airmen were captured and later executed after their planes crashed on Jap-held Formosa last June.

Eight high-ranking Japanese officers who are standing trial for the executions face possible death sentences.

The first foreign traders, of which there is any record, were the Arabs, who did their trading by land. The first maritime traders were the ancient Phoenicians, the founders of Tyre and Sidon. Because of the great cost of transportation in those days, the goods were usually of the richer kind, such as spices, silks, embroideries, fine linens, and products of gold, silver, and precious stones.

CLAIM TWO ARE IMPLICATED IN RECENT THEFTS

James C. Flick, 21, of 132½ East Long avenue, was charged by Police Chief Robert D. Hanna with burglary and receiving stolen goods and Huey Myers, 19, of 124 Center Way, was charged by the police chief with receiving stolen goods in information filed with Alderman J. C. Brice July 3, he stated today.

The arrests were the outcome of alleged burglaries by juveniles who are now in custody of the juvenile court officer.

Business Shows Steady Increase

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—(INS)—The Bureau of Business Research at the University of Pittsburgh today reported a business increase for the fourth consecutive week in the Pittsburgh district.

The seasonally adjusted index of business advanced almost 10 points for the week ending June 29. The bureau said the index stood 189.0 of the 1935-39 average, nearly equal the peak of 188.2 reached the last week of March immediately preceding the coal strike.

FALL IS FATAL

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—(INS)—A fall from a tree today had proven fatal to 72-year-old Creste D'Antoni of Pittsburgh. He was pruning an apple tree when he slipped from a limb and suffered a fractured skull.

Fourth Of July Travel Is Heavy

Many People Taking Long Trips Over Holiday; Others Just Out For Day

People went places over the Fourth—they left on long trips to the east coast or to Chicago and they went on short trips into Ohio.

Although the highways were crowded, at least one railroad and the bus depot reported unusually heavy passenger loads especially on Wednesday. Another railroad reported that the travel was much lighter than had been expected.

The bus depot reported a surprising number of long trips.

Photographer Is Bitten By Monkey

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—(INS)—One of the monkeys at Pittsburgh's Highland Park zoo apparently got tired of the large holiday crowd of goggled-eyed spectators and did something about it.

Amateur Photographer Robert Forrest, 33, dropped his camera into the monkey cage while holding it close to get a good "shot."

As Forrest attempted to retrieve the camera, a monkey clamped a set of very sharp teeth on his right index finger. Forrest was treated at a Pittsburgh hospital.

State Campaign Will Start Soon

Party Leaders Prepare For Battle In Pennsylvania
For Fall Election

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, July 5.—(INS)—Mid-July has been fixed by the Republican and Democratic state committees as the starting point of their grass roots campaign leading up to the general election Nov. 5. Final arrangements were being made for an intensified registration drive, with both parties eyeing untapped labor and rural votes.

The G. O. P. registered 2,580,048 voters for the primary election May 21 while Democrats had 1,740,535 persons eligible to attend the polls. The Republicans' top-heavy figure has been generally discounted in figuring balloting strength, however, since in recent years many G. O. P. registrants have crossed party lines.

The goal of both parties has been to get on the eligibility list approximately two million unregistered voters. Democratic State Chairman J. Warren Mickle feels that his party's chances for victory lie in an unprecedented labor vote. His drive will be aimed at correlating an estimated 300,000 ballots of the so-called labor group. The labor vote has been roughly pegged at 500,000. Gov. Edward Martin has announced that he expects to win considerable support from the labor element. Special efforts were planned by both sides to attract returning veterans and farmers. The upheaval of war and price stabilization may throw new support to the Republican corner, according to G. O. P. spokesmen.

Female candidates for state-wide and legislative posts were reduced from 13 to nine during the primary election. Mrs. Elizabeth Jordan of Pittsburgh, candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination, and three congressional aspirants were nosed out of the race by Republican opponents. They were Isabella J. Jones and Ella Hornick, both of Pittsburgh, 29th Allegheny, and Helen Perrell, of Philadelphia, fourth Philadelphia. Mrs. Jordan, who polled 89,198 votes, was defeated by Gov. Edward Martin by a 750,203 margin.

All of the legislative candidates were still in the running. The four incumbents polled larger votes than their male running mates. Mrs. Jeannette M. Dye, of Sandy Lake, Mercer county representative, received the largest number of ballots cast for women, winning 6,491 Republican votes. Other incumbents bidding for a return to the house were Mrs. Mary A. Varallo and Miss Anna Brancato, Philadelphia Democrats, fifth district; and Mrs. Josephine C. Coyle, Philadelphia Democrat, 10th district.

Four of the five women seeking initial terms are Democrats while the remaining candidate is running on the G. O. P. ticket. Seeking posts on the Democratic ballot were Leona Rich, of Upper Black Eddy, Bucks county; Madeline C. DeBell, of North East, third Erie; Beatrice B. Berk, of Bethayres, third Montgomery; and Mayme J. Jackson, of Philadelphia, sixth Philadelphia, and Henrietta C. McCosker, of Philadelphia, 18th Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children has scheduled the sixth annual season at its health camp from June 29 to Aug. 24. The resort, known as Camp Daddy Allen, will accommodate 96 physically handicapped youngsters this year, the society has reported. Located on the lush slopes of the Pocono mountains at Hickory Run, the open-air hostelry will keep its program parallel with those of nearby public and private camps for physically normal children. The agenda included sports, arts and crafts, publishing a camp newspaper and a circus.

In a report of its year-round program, the society disclosed that hospital treatment had been made available for 379 crippled youngsters while convalescent care was provided 157 others last year. Clinic treatments financed by the organization totaled 10,653. It was reported.

The majority of the young patients suffered from cerebral palsy, generally caused by an injury at birth, the society stated. Others were marked by the after effects of poliomyelitis, tuberculosis or congenital deformities. Approximately 80 per cent of the society's funds is raised through the sale of Easter seals, while private contributions make up the balance. The intake last year was not disclosed, but this year's figure was expected to exceed $180,000.

Strive To Avert Illinois Railroad
Strike On July 21

CHICAGO, July 5.—(INS)—Officials of the Illinois Central railroad said today that the threatened walkout of trainmen may be settled before the strike date, July 21.

Cyrus R. Young, personnel manager, said "chances are good" that company officials and members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will reach a settlement of the dispute. Should negotiations toward settlement fail, he said, the strike will be delayed for 30 to 60 days while the grievance is before the mediation board.

The issue is a question of interpretation of union rules affecting the 6,603-mile rail system employing 5,000 persons.

CHICAGO authorities are stepping up their questioning of William Heirens, above, 17-year-old University of Chicago student held in connection with the kidnap-murder of 6-year-old Suzanne Degnan. Many Want To Ride Rockets

Many Requests Reach Ordnance Department For 5,000 Feet Per Second Spin

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—The army ordnance department disclosed today that so many people want to take rocket rides that it could prosper in the travel business. An ordnance officer closely connected with the army's rocket firing program at White Sands, N. M., said that a series of requests are reaching his office for the 5,000 feet per second spin.

He added that "people from all over the country started offering themselves as guinea pigs when the V-2 rocket tests started." The officer remarked that some persons definitely want to ride on top of the V-2 and that others decidedly prefer the inside.

Pfc. Gerald Gable of El Paso, Tex., has proposed that he be permitted to take a jaunt in a rocket and parachute to earth. The dauntless GI specified that the flight be at an altitude of about 150 miles. The officer pointed out that Gable probably would find himself suspended in space at best because "the law of gravity hasn't been engaged up there so well" and the parachute would burn up.

The spokesman said that Gable's letter has been referred to proper channels for study and comment along with all other such communications. He remarked that they are read with interest with none being discounted without study.

He explained that "we don't want to miss a bet," pointing out that by the law of averages some good ideas might bob up.

Tentative plans also were disclosed for inviting the rocket-dauntless individuals en masse to one of the V-2 firings in New Mexico to give them a first hand idea of the project.

Soviets Turning Out Good Autos

R. J. Thomas, CIO-UAW Official, Completes Trip To Russia, Says No War Wanted

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—R. J. Thomas, vice president of the UAW-CIO, said today on his return from Moscow that the Russian automobile industry is producing cars "as good as any I've seen in the United States."

Thomas told reporters as he arrived on an American Airlines plane from Europe that the Soviet auto industry, however, is getting started slowly in production and suffers from steel shortages.

The former UAW president said that the Russian people do not want to go to war with the United States. He declared:

"The Russian people are the same as the American people—you can't drive either of them into war with each other."

Thomas said this was his first trip to Russia. He attended, along with Michael Ross, director of the national CIO's international department, the executive committee meeting of the World Federation of Trade Unions in Moscow.

Penny meters have been installed at the post-office, according to Meter Operator Arthur Harris. They were placed on the public square and along South Jefferson street at the federal building.

They can only be operated with pennies, 12 minutes being allowed for every penny. Police Chief Robert D. Camp Berkshire will be headquarters for the group, all girls who volunteered to join the summer work project in Connecticut sponsored by the agricultural extension service of the University of Connecticut. It is a two months' project.

Miss Martha Hanna, Miss Verna Taylor, Miss Helen Mayne of Ellwood City and Miss Edith Stanley accompanied the group on the train trip east and will remain at the camp with the girls as supervisors during the summer.

Miss Elizabeth Morrow, director and Mrs. Paul Hoagland, dietitian, left here several days ago in order to open the camp for the girls' arrival.

Man Found Dead In Central Park At New York City

Believe Victim Of Either Slaying Or Suicide Is Cleveland, Ohio, Man

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—A man tentatively identified by police as Francis Delaster Hedges, 30, of Cleveland, Ohio, was found shot to death today under a bush in Central Park.

Dr. Thomas Gonzales, chief medical examiner, made the tentative identification from a worn honorable discharge paper and a draft card found in the victim's pockets. The discharge was dated 1941 at Fort Custer, Mich., and was issued to a member of Co. F., 2nd Infantry.

No gun was found at the scene. This led police to theorize that the man had been slain, although the possibility of suicide was discussed. There was a bullet wound in his right temple.

The body was found sprawled on a scattered edition of one of today's morning papers, near the point where several hours earlier two thugs beat an elderly man.

Summer Months Worst Time For Mishaps To Youth

Insurance Statisticians Warn Young Persons To Be On Guard
In Sports, Driving

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 5.—Young men and particularly war veterans are warned by the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company that summer is the most dangerous season of the year for them. The special hazards arise mainly out of accidental injuries from sports and other recreational activities. The warning is addressed especially to war veterans because a large proportion of them have not had a chance for a long while to indulge their love for summer sports or to drive motor vehicles, and they will undoubtedly take advantage of their new opportunities.

Accidents have long been the leading cause of death in the United States among boys and young men between the ages of 15 to 24 years. In peacetime this accident toll was around 10,500 annually, with more than 40 per cent of the fatal injuries occurring in the four-month period, June through September. Indications are that the figures will be higher this year.

Auto Accidents
Motor vehicle injuries alone in prewar years accounted for more than one half the deaths from all accidents among Metropolitan's white male industrial policyholders aged 15 to 24 years. Such accidents have increased sharply since driving restrictions were relaxed a year ago.

One sixth of the accident fatalities among the insured in this age range resulted from drownings. Accidents while swimming or handling small boats during the vacation season account for a large percentage of these deaths, one reason being that too few young people can swim. The ability to handle firearms, required in the service, will be utilized by a large number that this will probably mean an increased toll of firearm accidents, particularly when the hunting season gets under way.

Garden Notes

July is the best month for lifting, dividing and replanting perennials and tall-bearded irises. In the process, keep an eye out for borers and dig them out of the rhizomes if they are present.

Cut down lupine and pyrethrum foliage. The latter will bloom again in August. Pick off dead flower heads from Canterbury bells and a crop of side buds will soon come out.

During the dry months remember to give ample amounts of water to the vegetables the tops of which we eat, such as spinach, lettuce and cabbage.

Use a contact spray against the lace bug feeding on rhododendron and azalea foliage and the red spider infesting evergreens. Watch for injury from aphids on all new growth.

Frequent spraying of potatoes whether they look as though they need it or not will reduce to a minimum or prevent entirely the diseases that injure the tops.

Shorten the side growth on grape vines and keep the soil about the vines well cultivated. Tying paper bags over the clusters of fruit will protect them from the birds.

Announce Plans For Orange Crate Derby Labor Day

Optimists Sponsoring Auto Derby
In City For Young Boys
In September

Biggest event of the year for boys aged 11 to 15 years will take place Labor Day in the form of the "Orange Crate Derby" which is a strictly supervised race for push-motocycles which must be constructed by the boys racing them.

This race, sponsored by the Optimist Club of New Castle, will have specifications and rules governing the type and construction of the racers. These rulings are very rigid, mainly as a safety measure. Entrants will be accepted or rejected the morning of the race by a group of judges selected for this purpose. Therefore it is extremely important that all boys adhere to the rules when they begin the construction of their vehicles.

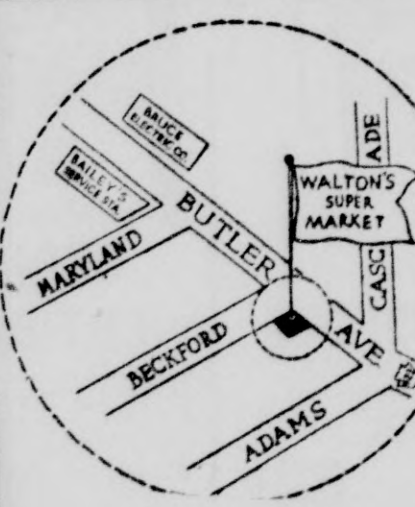

Where To Get Rules
A supply of the official rules and regulations for the race has been left at the following places for the convenience of the entrants: all playgrounds, Boy Scout office in the Greer building, Gas Men's Wear, East Washington street, Majestic Wallpaper store, East Washington street and the B. F. Goodrich store, 19 North Meeker street. Prizes for the winners have not yet been announced but indications point to a very satisfactory group of awards for the boys who finish out in front in the races. Albert Garren of the Pennsylvania Power company is chairman of the event and has informed the Optimist Club that as exciting as this year's race will be, it is only the preliminary to the district races planned for next year. It is hoped to bring a district championship to New Castle when the races are staged in 1947.

Food, Clothing Of GI Joe Rises Over 1944 Figure

Army Reveals Upkeep Of One Soldier Has Increased $125.42
In Two Years

WASHINGTON July 5—(INS)—The United States army figured out on its scratch-pad today that GI Joe's chow and gear now costs $125.42 more per year than in 1944.

The cost of his food, clothing and equipment for the first year in the army in the United States is $390.68. This is $37.10 more than a year ago.

The War Department said in a formal announcement that the 10.7 per cent increase since 1945 reflects the steadily rising costs of materials and subsistence items.

The costs are averages, representing the cost for a "composite" soldier as he is equipped for all the various arms and services of the army.

Costs $233.92
Food for one soldier in 1946 costs $233.92 as compared with $215.45 in 1944 and $226.30 last year.

An increase of 11.3 per cent over 1945 was noted for clothing this year. It cost $173.70 in 1944; rose to $212 in 1945; and to $237.16 in 1946.

The cost of barrack equipment doubled. It was $31.31 in 1944; $31.65 in 1945 and soared to $63.42 in 1946.

The department said that a sharper increase is shown for this equipment than for other items because the bulk of the army is now in the United States and consequently more troops are requiring full barrack supplies.

In addition, five new items of equipment have been added that were restricted during the war because they were considered non-essential to the war mission. General price increase of materials assertedly accounted for some of the difference.

One Group Lower
Individual equipment was the only group of items showing a reduction under 1945. This cost $44.70 in 1944; $63.93 in 1945 and $56.18 in 1946.

The department's answer to this was that a number of items are cheaper to produce, pointing out also that savings resulted from substitution of improved equipment, such as a field pack at $2.97 for the former haversack and carrier pack costing $7.32.

The army statistics represented the cost of items issued by the quartermaster corps only. The cost of weapons, ammunition, transportation, shelter, pay and similar expenses were not included.

Maintenance costs for troops in the United States are considerably lower than they were in theaters of operations during the war.

Survey Vacation Sites Near Erie

HARRISBURG—Members of the Lake Erie International Vacationland conference visited Presque Isle and other scenic and historical points in the vicinity of Erie last week as a part of a tour surveying vacation facilities and accommodations along the entire length of Lake Erie.

The members of the party traveling by deluxe touring bus started from Cleveland for the week's tour of the rim of the lake. Arrangements for the Erie visit were made jointly by the Erie Chamber of Commerce and the Vacation and Recreation Bureau of the State Department of Commerce. Representatives of these two groups met the visitors at the Pennsylvania-Ohio state line on route 20 and escorted them through the Pennsylvania leg of the trip.

Result of the survey of vacation facilities and accommodations will be compiled for future use of participating agencies in the promotion of the area.

IN SIX MONTHS WE HAVE ADDED 120,000 TELEPHONES IN PENNSYLVANIA

That beats every FULL-YEAR record in our history

In the last six months, we have increased by 120,000 the number of Bell telephones in Pennsylvania!

In half a year, we have put in more telephones than in any full year since we have been in business.

This progress was accomplished by improvising, by the use of temporary expedients in construction, and by placing in service a large amount of temporary facilities which must be replaced with permanent additions as soon as conditions permit.

It is all the more remarkable because it was achieved—

In spite of—material shortages which are becoming increasingly acute.

In spite of—a supply situation which has become progressively worse instead of better.

In spite of—a plague of other reasons quite beyond our control.

But we aren't in the clear yet.

Even as we break our previous records for telephone installations, the people of Pennsylvania are breaking all previous records—by asking for more and more telephones . . . more than ever before in our experience.

We thought that demand would taper off after the war. It has zoomed instead . . . and almost as fast as we have taken names off the top of the waiting lists, new names have been added to the bottom. Nevertheless, we have reduced the size of the waiting lists by 21,000.

Despite all this, there are still 100,000 waiting for telephone service . . . that's too many. We know it. We don't like it.

But what WE'VE DONE since the first of this year shows what WE WILL BE ABLE TO DO when we can get the switchboards and dial equipment and cable and wire and 101 other things we need to go full speed ahead.

There'll be no holding us then . . . just as there'll be no holding Western Electric, our suppliers, when the world shortage of copper and lead is over, when textiles and steel and rubber and lumber and brass mill products are again available in the vast quantities required.

Telephone service for everybody who wants it.

That's our goal and we intend to attain it.

Girl Scout Camp Will Open July 28

Registrations Are Being Taken For Annual Girl Scout Encampment:
Limited Number Of Openings

Girl Scouts who are anxious to get away from the city for a nice vacation, can do so by attending the Girl Scout Camp from July 28 to Aug. 10.

The aims of the Girl Scout Camp, as of the entire movement, are sound character and good citizenship. With modern education and physiologists of today, it is felt that a camp experience is a happy and reliable means of developing and enriching a child's health and personality.

Here, girls come voluntarily to work and play together in groups of like ages and interests, planning and managing their own affairs, through the Court of Honor. With them is a selective group of trained understanding adults as counselors and friends. The result is a surprising development in cooperativeness and independence.

A typical day at camp starts with rising at 7 A. M. A hearty breakfast is then enjoyed, followed by kapers and housekeeping, which includes cleaning up the cabin and tidying up the camp ground. The rest of the morning is spent in activities such as swimming, hand craft, archery and nature.

At 12:30, the girls assemble for dinner. Some of the girls eat at the mess hall, while others cook their own food by using a tin can stove, a reflector oven, a crane or over a trench fuel place. An outdoor cook, who is skilled in building a fire quickly, and in producing good meals, is bound to help others, as well as herself to a good time.

A rest period follows lunch, and then the girls are ready to resume their activity and go swimming again. In the hand craft classes, many handsome and useful articles are made by the girls.

Supper is served at 6 o'clock, with the same procedure followed as at noon, giving the girls a chance to learn outdoor cooking.

A merry evening follows, with singing, folk dancing, dramatics and consultation around the large camp fire. Each unit enjoys a hay ride while at camp. After a full day's work and pleasure, the girls are ready to retire and the camp quiets down for the night.

Two weeks of living out of doors in fresh air and sunshine, makes an ideal vacation for girls of scout age.

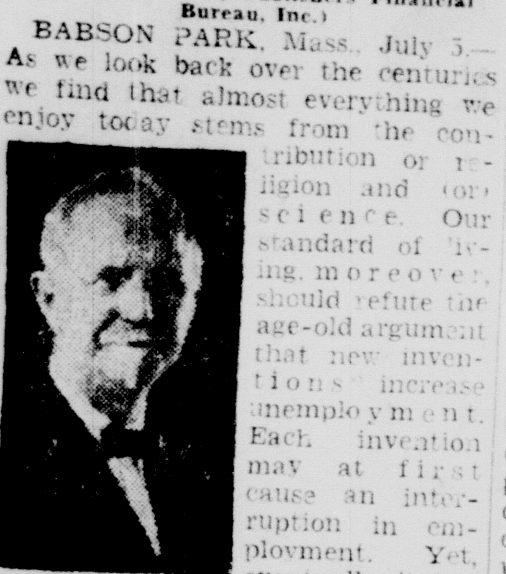

A limited number of girls who are not Scouts, will be accepted at camp, and all girls who are interested in attending are to register at the Scout office in the Greer Building as soon as possible.

Inventions-Unemployment Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1946, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON

As we look back over the centuries we find that almost everything we enjoy today stems from the contribution of invention and science.

Our standard of living, moreover, should reflect the age-old argument that new inventions increase unemployment. Each invention may at first cause an interruption in employment. Yet, eventually it becomes necessary to hire more workers to take care of the increased business which the new machine creates, otherwise we would not be living in caves.

Just a few illustrations: The development of new and improved machines for digging, grading, loading and trucking has made many projects possible which otherwise would never have been attempted. The open pit mines are one such project. Some of these are about three miles wide and close to half a mile deep. Bulldozers and power shovels are continually gouging deeper into the earth and loading the ore into huge trucks. All such pits would have been impossible before modern excavators had been invented, even though these great excavators appear to throw many men out of work.

New Uses For Radar and Airplanes
Radar continues to supply employment for thousands even though it was supposed to be only for war use. It is now being used for many peacetime projects. It makes possible full-speed ocean travel in pitch darkness in only sketchily charted waters. It gives our ships the ability to detect and range other ships without even coming within visual distance. It gives eyes to mariners so that they can pierce, camouflage or accurately locate other ships or obstacles. It judges the altitude of a plane flying as high as 20,000 feet to within 100 feet of the true distance. Hence, in peacetime radar will be installed in ships and planes to enable navigation in fog-bound waters and to make possible "all-weather" flying. This will increase employment in many ways.

The airplane in World War II was indispensable. The design, manufacture and continuous operation of airplanes call for large-scale employment in an industry which only a few years ago was non-existent. Already the helicopter is recognized as a revolutionary addition to the airplane industry. The post office department plans to use helicopters to transport mail between suburban areas and large city airports so as to guarantee 12-hour service between any two cities in the country.

Many New Uses For Plastics
The plastic industry is one of the newer chemical inventions. Although it may usurp some business from other industries, through a better or less expensive product, there are many altogether new uses for plastics which do not eliminate any former products. Hence, the plastics industries will continue to expand and use increased manpower. There is little danger of the waste of the plastics industry due to depletion of raw materials. Each day some new source, such as soy beans, corn husks, coal air and water, oil and milk, is discovered.

Some of the plastics never used are piped lightning, windupones which filter out harmful rays of the sun, and nearly perfect artificial eyes which actually fit the eye.

socket. Great possibilities await plastics in the refrigeration field where materials must withstand extreme changes of moisture and temperature. Light-weight and non-magnetic qualities make plastics especially adaptable for aircraft instruments. Low pressure laminating and pulp-preform molding is being used for radio cabinets, auto trailers, boat hulls, furniture and low-cost housing.

Conclusion
Thus, from the new inventions spring new industries which continue to increase employment. They bring to each of us a better and cheaper product which is more pleasing to the eye and eases our daily tasks. These new industries employ hundreds of thousands of workers and are indirectly responsible for the employment of further thousands. Does it now appear as if new inventions are injurious to increased employment? Rather, it strikes me they are an asset.

Gen. Mark Clark Protests Russian Violated Agreement

VIENNA, July 5.—(INS)—Gen. Mark Clark, American commander in Austria, protested today that a gun-toting Soviet soldier violated an occupation agreement by entering the U. S. zone and starting a fatal shooting duel with U. S. MPs.

The Russian's shot missed, PFC Paul Sullivan, of Elmhurst, N. Y., but a return volley of eight bullets fired by the MPs killed the Russian instantly.

U. S. and Soviet commanders had agreed after an earlier shooting scuffle to restrain armed troops from entering each other's zones.

WORK STOPPAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—(INS)—Six thousand CIO longshoremen stop work at the port of San Francisco for 12 hours today to observe "Bloody Thursday."

"Bloody Thursday" was set aside by CIO officials to observe the anniversary of the date when waterfront strike violence cost the lives of two CIO longshoremen in 1934. Longshoremen leave their posts at 7 a. m. and will not return until 7 p. m.

Only relief and troopships and the Matson liner Manatua will be worked during the day.

Dangerous Nazis Remain In Spain

LONDON, July 5.—(INS)—The Daily Herald reported today that 1,300 "dangerous Nazis" were still living in Spain with the Franco government opposing their extradition on grounds that the Allies do not constitute a legal regime for the Reich.

The newspaper said the Allied control council asked specifically nine years ago that 734 Nazis be returned to Germany. It reported that 192 have been extradited in that time.

The report said the Germans are being "protected by the Spanish police and are eating black-market food."

Staten Island was named "Statten Eylandt" in 1607 Henry Hudson, in honor of the state general of Netherlands, by whom he was employed.

Calls On Business For Calm Thinking

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—(INS)—Small businessmen throughout the nation were urged by the American Association of Small Business today to "take losses on certain items, if necessary" in order to hold prices firm at June 30th levels.

H. Nelson Street, national secretary of the association, appealed to small business interests to hold firm to prevent "inflation or inflationary practices."

He predicted a "national catastrophe" if prices run wild and called upon small business to avoid "panic thinking" and to remain "calm and self-assured."

Telephone Lines Of Congressmen Reported Tapped

Leaders In Congress Condemn Practice Charged To War Department

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—Congressional leaders of both major political parties today roundly condemned the war department practice of recording telephone conversations with members of congress.

The army's practice came to light during the senate war investigating committee's hearings into war contracts, at which recorded conversations between Rep. May (D) Ky., and army officials were made public.

The recordings were war department evidence to show the part played by May in influencing army procurement decisions during the war. May himself has refused comment on the disclosures.

May Be In Army Files

In the halls of congress, however, members of the senate and house learned with surprise that their supposedly private telephone conversations with war department officials may be in the army's files for future reference.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D) Tex., spoke out strongly against the practice, as did House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts. Martin declared:

"It's a mean practice. I don't know why the bureaucrats should have more power on the telephone than the FBI."

As congressional sentiment against the practice grew, it was learned that the house committee to investigate unauthorized acts of executive agencies is considering a probe of the army practice.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 5.—(INS)—Mystery surrounding the discovery of a woman's body in a private swimming pool in the Ralston estate, near Marklesburg, was solved today when a Fayette county detective reported that Mrs. Goldie Savage had committed suicide.

Detective Lawrence A. Haggerty said the woman, who had been missing a week, walked into the pool, fully clothed, until she was submerged. Other persons swam daily in the pool unaware of the body until it came to the surface two days ago.

Soft Drinks May Replace Champagne At Paris Events

PARIS, July 5.—(INS)—There was danger in France today that American soft drinks will replace champagne as the favorite beverage for swank social affairs.

The threat became evident at a mammoth party staged in the U. S. embassy by Ambassador and Mrs. Jefferson Caffery as the windup to Fourth of July celebrations.

More than 2,000 persons attended, and rushed the iced, soft drink counter about 3 to 1 over the champagne bar.

Preston Tucker Announces Plans
For Placing New Auto
On Market

CHICAGO, July 5.—(INS)—"Full speed ahead" was ordered at the former Dodge-Chrysler war plant today by Preston Tucker, head of the Tucker Motor Car Corp., which has leased the $170,000,000 factory from the war assets administration.

Tucker revealed at a news conference that the five-year lease contains two options.

The first permits a five-year renewal on expiration of the first period.

The second gives the corporation the right to purchase the property for $30,000,000 within 4 1/2 years.

Tucker, who had said previously that no new financing was contemplated, announced he plans to start production on a four-door light-weight sedan early next year.

When the plant is running at capacity, he declared, it will produce 1,300 cars daily and employ 35,000 persons.

The plant will rent for $600,000 the first year, $800,000 the second, and $2,400,000 for the next three years.

The Tucker car will be known as the "Torpedo," with a 150-horsepower engine mounted in the rear and delivering power to all four wheels without transmission, differential and drive shaft.

Tucker said the car's top speed will be 130 miles an hour and its cost from $1,000 to $1,200.

The thistle is the largest family of plants and includes about one-tenth of all flowering plants. Such plants as the aster, goldenrod, daisy, and thousands of others, belong to the thistle family.

State Agents Nab Violators Of Pure Food Law

Agriculture Department Exposes Frauds For Many Scarce Items On Market

HARRISBURG—Use of illegal substitutes for scarce butter, sugar and vegetable oils in many foods and beverages offered for sale to Pennsylvania consumers was exposed today when the State Department of Agriculture announced completion of a series of more than 250 arrests in the past few months, covering nearly 400 violations of the state general food, ice cream, carbonated beverages and meat hygiene laws.

Convictions and heavy fines against law violators resulted from routine check-ups on food supply lines by the department's "F-Men" or food agents with the cooperation of local police and health officers, according to Miles Horst, state secretary of agriculture, whose department is charged with enforcement of the state's food laws.

Plead Guilty

"Most violators have not hesitated in pleading guilty when faced with our evidence, and much of the practice threatening public health has been stopped," he declared. He listed the most glaring food frauds being perpetrated on an unsuspecting public as including:

1. Use of saccharin (a drug) and so-called "sugar stretchers" as substitutes for sugar in ice cream and bottled soft drinks, large quantities of which are consumed by children.

2. Use of mineral oil in salad dressings, in imitation butter, in place of butter on popcorn, in some bakery products, and in the making of some potato chips. (Mineral oil has specific uses, but not in food products, the secretary explained.)

3. Use of monochloroacetic acid—which is poisonous to humans when taken internally in quantities—as a preservative in carbonated beverages to prevent fermentation and spoilage by killing bacteria claimed to result from insanitary bottling practices.

4. Reworked butter loaded with as much as 30 per cent water, tubs of 85 pounds being stretched to 100 pounds, bringing it below legal butterfat requirements.

5. Sale of "plastic cream," supposedly an extra heavy cream, at 90 cents a pound for use in place of butter, found adulterated with water and deficient in butterfat. (Some found with salt added, placing it in the butter class, but well below state requirements of 80 per cent butterfat.)

Clyde Eakin Is Taken By Death

Clyde Eakin died in his home in Gooding, Idaho, on June 30, following a lingering illness.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Jennie Eakin; two sisters, one brother, Mrs. James Reed, Ellwood City, Mrs. Charles Callahan, Greenville, and Lawrence Eakin, Warren, O.

He had resided in Idaho for 38 years, moving there for his health. He was born in Butler county, near Eau Claire, July 27, 1879, son of Thomas and Hattie Sankey Eakin.

Salvation Army Dedicates Camp

Former Camp Ellwood Is Officially Taken Over At Service Thursday

Forty-five persons from the local Salvation Army corps were among the crowd of one thousand which attended the dedication service of the new Salvation Army camp near Ellwood City on Thursday. The camp, formerly Camp Ellwood, was purchased by the Salvation Army several months ago, and now has its first large group of campers, two hundred boys from the Western Pennsylvania division. Renamed Camp Allegheny, it serves the 39 corps of this division. Proceeding the dedication service, a Home League meeting was held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, with Mrs. Ernest I. Pugmire and Mrs. Edward Carey Young People's Territorial secretary as speakers. Between this meeting and the evening meeting, the corps enjoyed a box picnic at which pop and ice cream were furnished by the Army. Lt. Col. Ralph Miller was the chairman of the dedication service. Commissioner Ernest I. Pugmire was the speaker, and the music was by the Pittsburgh staff band under the direction of Adjutant John Lyon. The group of boys now at the camp will leave on July 10, when the girls' groups, Sunbeams and Guards, will move in for the July 10-20 period. From July 20 to July 30, the camp will be for the bands, and during August, fresh air camp for underprivileged children will be held.

Occupation Of Germany May Last Many Years

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—A prediction that Allied occupation of Germany may be necessary for the next 15 or 20 years came today from Frank E. Gannett. The Rochester publisher, recently returned from a tour of occupied Europe, said in a CBS radio broadcast: "It is better for us to stay in Germany for 15 or 20 years, with a constantly decreasing military force, than to permit conditions to develop in mid-Europe that will make it necessary for our sons to fight there in another world war." He pointed out that older Germans, put into government posts because of their antipathy to the Nazis, will pass out of the picture in a comparatively few years and added: "Surely it will not be wise or safe to turn Germany back to those who believe in Nazism."

Masaryk Believes German Question Can Be Settled

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—The London radio reported today that Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia believes his nation's German minority problem will be solved within four months. However, Masaryk said the Hungarian population within Czechoslovakia's borders posed a larger problem. Hungarian officials have demanded the return of their compatriots. Masaryk added that he favored the United States plan for sharing shipping on the Danube river. The BBC report was monitored by NBC.

District 4-H Boys Conclude Camping Period

Boys of 4-H clubs of four counties broke camp this morning at the Y.M.C.A. summer site on the Slippery Rock, thus concluding four days of instruction and recreation. The boys, representing Lawrence, Butler, Mercer and Beaver counties, climaxed their outing on July 4 when they visited the Jordan game farm on a morning inspection. The farm club boys enjoyed the modern facilities of the "Y" camp, their program including swimming, athletics and other amusements besides their periods of instruction by 4-H club leaders of the state. Between 60 and 70 boys attended the four-day sessions. Benjamin Franklin was the first postmaster general of the United States.

Expects House Will Pass British Loan

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—Chairman Spence (D-Ky., of the house banking committee, today expected the three billion, 750 million dollar British loan to be passed by the house next week. Spence, deriding opposition to the loan, minimized the statement issued by 75 house members—74 Republicans and one Progressive—urging congress to give consideration to war veterans and aged persons before authorizing foreign loans. Spence said: "I see where 74 Republicans said they were against it. That didn't surprise me very much. There are always 74 Republicans against anything." While Spence predicted approval of the loan, he cautiously acknowledged that he did not think "it will be a runaway." The game of craps originated in France, and was introduced in the U. S. at New Orleans.

Sports Day Held At West Side

Children of the West Side playground gathered Wednesday afternoon for a Sports Day contest. Basketball, horseshoes, hopscotch, swimming and races were the games of the contest. Judges Bill Logue, Manuel Gonzalez, Art Guinagh and Mickey Yammuel awarded the prizes to the young sportsmen. Robert William took first prize as basketball champion. Tom Helrick was first in playing horseshoes and won the second prize. Buddy Haggerty was the best racer and took the third prize. Honorable mention was given to Ann Wadlinger and Eddie Guinagh.

DEADLINE SET LONDON, July 5.—(INS)—The London Evening Standard reported from Jerusalem today that three Jewish underground armies have set an operational deadline for mid-night tonight. The report was said to have originated with three British officers in the Holy Land. They said British troops have been alerted throughout Palestine and are standing by for any emergency.

There are today 22 percent fewer repair shops and 47 percent fewer mechanics in the United States available for the maintenance of civilian goods than at the time of Pearl Harbor, making it necessary to train men in large numbers for the work, according to Distribution Age.

Figures Prove Nazis Lived In Fool's Paradise

BERLIN.—(INS)—If there is one lesson the German people learned in the war it is that Uncle Sam still knows how to produce faster and better than anybody else in the world.

The man-in-the-street recognizes today that Hitler's psychological inability to accept the facts of American war production was one of the major errors which reduced his nation to ashes.

When President Roosevelt called on United States industry to produce 50,000 planes a year, Dr. Goebbels pushed a button which released a chorus of ridicule in the stupor German press.

Fool's Paradise

Not until thousands of tanks rolled over the fertile fields of Normandy and thousands of bombers rained destruction over German cities did the people here begin to understand how terribly they had been duped. Then it was too late.

The British-licensed daily "Telegraph" recently published some production figures which show what a fool's paradise the Nazis were living in.

These figures indicate that the United States more than doubled German production in all of the most important categories, such as iron, steel and coal. But the most striking example of American superiority was oil.

American Production

In 1943 United States crude oil production was 1,505,000,000 barrels while Germany and her satellite nations were able to produce only 65,900,000 barrels.

In 1937, when Hitler was stepping up all production in preparation for the war, Germany was able to produce only about 50 billion kilowatt hours of electricity. The United States in that year, without any war plans, produced more than 120 billion kilowatt hours. By 1944 we had nearly doubled this peacetime rate.

Germany in 1937 was able to make only 332,000 passenger cars and trucks, compared to 4,800,000 which rolled off the assembly lines in the United States.

It is only recently that many Germans have finally learned that it was economically impossible for them to win the war.

SCOTCH AND SKIVIES
NEW YORK.—(INS)—"Skivies" sailor slang for underwear—comes to us from a term used by the early Scots, according to ships' magazines. They called the tight-fitting trousers they wore next to their skins "skiva-clothes," meaning "crazy clothes." Adopted by seamen and shortened to "skivies," it has come to be applied to any underwear.

The Law in Jesus' Day

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Samaritan Pentateuch. The book of the law.

"Ye shall walk in all the way which Jehovah your God hath commanded you."—Deut. 5:33.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 7 is Exodus 20:3-17; Deut. 5:33; 6:39; Matt. 5:17-20; 22:37-39; Mark 10:17-22; Luke 2:41-52; the Memory Verse being Deut. 5:33, "Ye shall walk in all the way which Jehovah your God hath commanded you."

In today's lesson we begin a series on Jesus' interpretation of the Old Testament laws. Rather recently we had the story of Jehovah giving the laws of the Old Testament to Moses. These laws or ten commandments are couched in denials, "thou shalt not." Jesus believed firmly in keeping these Jewish laws, but He interpreted their spiritual meaning in His teachings.

"Ye shall walk in all the way which the Lord thy God hath commanded you, that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land ye shall possess." The ten commandments are really the moral structure of our life today. To love the Lord our God; to love our neighbors, which follows naturally after love of God, are still the greatest commandments. If God is the father of us all (every one on earth) we are all brothers and sisters, and should make no distinctions but love them all and treat them as such. Can you imagine God the Father making any distinctions?

Other Commandments
Then follow Thou shalt not worship images; thou shalt not blaspheme; thou shalt honor thy parents; thou shalt not kill or commit adultery; nor steal; nor bear false witness against thy neighbor; nor covet thy neighbor's goods and possessions. That is still the moral code, the keeping of which makes us good citizens.

Always as a boy Jesus was obedient to the law, and when at the age of twelve, His parents went to Jerusalem, as they did annually, to observe the feast of the Passover. He went with them, as He now became "a son of the law." What happened to Him after the Passover, we have also studied recently. His visit to the temple, and His answer to His parents when they came to seek Him.

In regard to Jesus' teaching about the law, we read His own words in Matthew: "Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets. I came not to destroy, but to fulfill."

"Whosoever therefore shall break one of the least commandments and shall teach men so, shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven; but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven." The "least commandments" are those which seem trivial, but really are not. The control of thoughts and desires which we know are not good. Little dishonesties, "white lies," etc. If we practice these "least of commandments," in time we may come to break the great ones. If a preacher, teacher or parent breaks these lesser commandments and teaches them to others, he can never be called great in the kingdom of heaven because he is not great, but small in God's eyes, no matter what men think of him.

A lawyer asked Jesus which was the greatest of all the commandments of the law. Jesus answered readily, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart." And the second is like unto it, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets. The Jews had many laws covering all the circumstances of their lives, down to their smallest actions. But to Jesus these two were the great ones, those that mattered most. If we love God we must love our neighbors. If we are obedient to God's will, we will do what is right, and how much happier will we be.

The story of the young man who came to Christ, and casting himself at His feet, begged to be told what to do to inherit eternal life, is next in our lesson. He was a "ruler" we are told, probably a ruler of the synagogue. He was wealthy, fine appearing, and had always led an exemplary life. He was a son and citizen to be proud of, and yet he was not satisfied. He felt he hadn't done enough, so he came to Jesus, and throwing himself on his knees he addressed Him with reverence, "Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?"

"Thou knowest the commandment," Jesus told him, and received the reply that he had kept them all his life.

"Jesus beholding him, loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest; go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come take up thy cross, and follow Me."

That was too much for this earnest young man. To give up his wealth, his position in the church as an admired citizen, and his place in society, he could not tolerate. Jesus and His disciples were poor, mostly unfettered men. The young man turned away and returned to his normal way of living. Don't you wonder if he ever regretted his action and felt he had missed the Great Chance of his life?

British Woman Arrives With Three Survivors Of Quads; To Be Married

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—Miss Norah Rose Carpenter, 25, and her three surviving quadruplets arrived by Trans-Atlantic plane today to be reunited with the babies' father, former Sgt. William Thompson, of Pittsburgh.

Thompson was not at LaGuardia field as the Pan American plane landed at 6 a. m. Nor had he appeared when the group left the airport at 8:45 after going through customs.

Now divorced by the American girl to whom he was married when the quads were born, Thompson will marry Miss Carpenter as soon as it is possible to comply with Pennsylvania laws, his lawyer, Sam Keller of Pittsburgh, said.

Keller was at the airport with Jack Warner, described as Thompson's first cousin.

Highly Agitated

Miss Carpenter appeared highly agitated all during the two-hour custom processing. She curiously refused all reporters' efforts to obtain an interview.

"I can't stand any more of this," she screamed at one point, and Little Maureen cried and stomped her foot until her mother picked her up. Maureen's brother, Michael, and sister, Madeline—they are 28 months old—complacently chewed pencils given them to play with.

"Are you glad to be here?" Miss Carpenter was asked. "What do you think," she snapped.

"When do you plan to be married?" "Don't ask me any more questions," she shouted.

To all further questions, she shouted "No, no, no!"

Asked where Miss Carpenter was going, the lawyer replied only, "I am going to the Hotel Madison."

There were reports that Thompson had come into town last night and was awaiting a reunion with Miss Carpenter and his children in a hotel.

Seeks Delay

Under Pennsylvania law blood tests must be taken and three days must elapse after applications before a marriage license may be issued.

The lawyer said, however, that he hoped to get a delay waived on the grounds that the wedding was an emergency one, and on the ground that Thompson is a veteran. He was discharged from the army a year ago last July 1.

He was divorced last April 24 after publicly acknowledging paternity of the quads, one of whom died a few days after their birth on Feb. 27, 1944.

Miss Carpenter wore a gray plaid suit and red shoes as she stepped from the plane. The children wore red hats and rompers and white knit sweaters with red shoes.

Miss Marguerite Rotch, the plane's stewardess, said the children slept most of the way over and cried only briefly when they were hungry.

They ate steaks, carrots and French fried potatoes en route, she said, although their mother refused all food, drinking coffee incessantly.

Miss Carpenter read aloud from Peter Rabbit, the hostess said, and the children uttered delighted cries of "Da-Da."

Embarking the children nonchalantly chorused "bomber bomber" when they saw the giant ship, the stewardess said.

10,000 Journey To Cascade Park

Cascade Park was thronged from early afternoon until midnight July 4, and according to C. C. Coulthard, superintendent, at least 10,000 persons visited the recreation and amusement center.

There were no accidents. The bathing pools were filled during the afternoon. All rides were kept busy, the dance pavilion was crowded last night and the parking sections were filled.

Mr. Coulthard stated that "it was one of the best Fourth of July celebrations at the park in many years."

NEW FIRE DEPARTMENT HOME
ELLWOOD CITY, July 5.—President Lucian Downing of the Wurtemburg and Perry Township fire department, has announced the purchase of the former Worley garage at Wurtemburg for use as a new fire station.

Starting next Monday, all auxiliary department activities will take place in the new hall.

At the last regular meeting, Fire Chief Charles Timblin reported the purchase of new equipment. The department hopes to purchase a portable pump to add to the present apparatus.

PAYMENTS TO JOBLESS
HARRISBURG — Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer, announced that unemployment compensation benefit payments to jobless Pennsylvania workers during the week ended June 21, 1946, totaling $2,237,047.60, paid in 124,764 checks.

Reports on 'A' Test

ADVISED to Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe (above), told newsmen that the test of the atomic bomb in Bikini Lagoon lived up to expectations. McAuliffe said that the bombs could cripple any nation on which they were used. (International)

In 1945 an electrical micrometer was developed so sensitive that it can measure movements as small as one-tenth of a millionth of an inch without touching the object.

Wheat Estimates Revised Upwards

HARRISBURG.—Weather conditions the first two weeks in June were so favorable for the advancement of small grain crops in Pennsylvania that the estimated production of winter wheat was increased by one bushel per acre, or a gain of 873,000 bushels, the State Department of Agriculture reported today as the result of a special mid-June Federal-State survey.

On the basis of May 15 average prices received by Pennsylvania farmers for wheat, $1.91 a bushel, Department officials said the increase in the value of the winter wheat crop advanced approximately $1,677,000.

Wheat should be ready to harvest in southern Pennsylvania counties within the coming week, Department officials said. At harvest time last year it was so wet that much wheat sprouted or rotted causing losses estimated at approximately $1,500,000.

Pennsylvania is one of 15 more important winter wheat producing states where a total improvement of over 34 million bushels was reported during the first half of June, the estimate advancing from 773 to 809 million bushels. It was said.

Summer Program Of YMCA Begins Monday, July 8

First Contingent Off To Camp Fred L. Rentz: Vacation Club To Be Launched

Monday, July 8, will be a busy day for young boys of the local Y. M. C. A., as this date officially opens the summer program for the association.

Seventy-two boys will leave the city for a busy week at Camp Fred L. Rentz, the summer site along the banks of the Slippery Rock creek, while another group will be engaged in handcraft work in the vacation club, a new feature of the association.

Summer Camp Ready
Everything is in readiness for the first week at the camp, and the young members will leave New Castle Monday morning for their week in the open.

William Winter, program director of the local branch, is the camp director this summer, with James Dart, physical instructor, acting as assistant. At the modern, well-equipped site the boys will enjoy swimming, boating, athletics, and instruction periods under the leadership of the counselors.

Counselors serving this year will be Jim Hamilton, John Kolumie, Dick Onash, Jim Cox, Henry McNicholas, Jr., Sid Lockley Jr., Arnold Lewis and Tom Hares, Mrs. Tillie Mechling and Mrs. Oscar Saul will serve as camp cooks for the summer.

Camp roster has been booked solid for the first three weeks, and some sixty boys have signed for the fourth and fifth week periods. Boys of the Shenango street "Y" will attend the camp during the sixth and final week, and a full complement of members from this branch have been signed. During the fifth week boys of the Margaret Henry home will also attend the camp, it was announced.

Vacation Club
For the boys who cannot attend the summer camp sessions, a vacation club has been instituted in the "Y" building, and will open July 8 at 3:30 p. m.

The first period will conclude August 12 and another week will open August 5 and finish August 17. David Gatrall, boys' work director, and supervisor of the club, said today that 36 boys have signed for the first week of lessons, and 10 so far for the final week. It is hoped to have fifty boys signed when the period begins Monday.

The boys will work in all the crafts, including leather, metal, and plaster molding. John Thompson and James Pears will assist Mr. Gatrall in the club work.

Declare Man In Russian Uniform Was Masquerader

VIENNA, July 5.—(INS)—Russian headquarters informed American authorities today that the "Soviet soldier" slain yesterday by four American MPs in a street gun duel was not a Russian soldier, but merely an individual in a Russian uniform.

The Soviet headquarters claim was relayed to American authorities in the wake of a protest by Gen. Mark Clark that presence of the gun-toting "Russian" in the American zone violated an occupation agreement made at the last allied control council meeting.

TEST NEW PLANE
LONDON, July 5.—(INS)—The British were reported today to be testing commercial aircraft capable of super-sonic speeds between 700 and 1,000 miles an hour.

It was indicated that some models may be in operation before the end of summer. They include manual and radio-controlled craft.

The planes are designed during the war as the British reply to the pilot-less Nazi V-2 bombs, but have since been revised.

Found Strangled

NANCY CROWELL, 7, was found strangled in a wooded section near her Patton, Pa. home, and state police are holding her cousin, 15-year-old Eugene Domonkos, who led them to the body. According to the authorities, the lad admitted killing the child because "she called me names." (International)

Moscow Paper Charges China Aid By America

MOSCOW, July 5.—(INS)—The Moscow newspaper Pravda, in a three column article declared that American support has helped dispersal of "reactionary forces in China."

The lengthy dispatch, headed "What is happening in China?" posed this question for its readers: "Why is it that peaceful rehabilitation remains wishful thinking for the exhausted popular Chinese masses?"

After a detailed, informative survey of the situation in China, Pravda declared:

"The reactionary forces in China, even though they possess considerable positions, would have been dispersed long ago had they not been supported by American help. As it was reported in the American press, the Americans transport troops on their own boats for the struggle against the popular armies, supply these troops with armament and render political support to the reactionary forces."

In conclusion Pravda said: "Chinese 'democracy' begins to doubt whether the progressive part of the Kuomintang will succeed in holding back the reactionary elements to such an extent that they would be prevented from creating new and never obstacles for the country's unity its democratization and progress."

Goes To New York To Identify Body

WARREN, Pa., July 5.—(INS)—Fred Sechrist, an uncle of Mrs. Katherine Miller, 42, who was found strangled in New York left Warren today for New York to identify the body.

Sechrist said that despite reports the dead woman was not a nurse. He said she was a secretary, having worked in Warren until 1934 when she went to New York to do secretarial work.

She left New York in 1943 and has been living in both her home town and New York at various intervals since that time.

Mrs. Miller was married in 1926 to Otis Miller, of Warren, but was later divorced.

War Crimes Trial Delayed By Fire

Gasoline Tank Near Nuernberg
Courthouse Bursts Into Flames, Probe Opened

NUERNBERG, July 5.—(INS)—Deliberations of the allied war crimes tribunal were interrupted briefly today when a gasoline tank near the courthouse's kitchen wing burst into flames.

Chief Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence took time out from legal duties to watch a German fire-fighting brigade bringing the fire under control with special foam equipment.

Authorities ordered an investigation of the incident.

Counter-intelligence officers reported yesterday of a thwarted attempt by an underground Nazi band to attack the courthouse and "rescue" Herman Goering and other German leaders now on trial.

Legion Officers At Grove City

GROVE CITY, July 5.—James A. McCausland was named commander of Grove City Post No. 220, American Legion, at the annual election. He succeeds W. C. Rodgers.

Other officers elected were: Senior vice commander, Harold Clarkson; junior vice commander, J. R. Montgomery; chaplain, Kenneth Christley; adjutant, D. C. Porter Jr.; finance officer, Edward B. McConnell; color bearer, Budd Knauff; trustee, H. A. Young. William Porter and Jack Griffin.

Paul C. Hassler, finance officer for 16 years, asked to be excused, and was congratulated for his faithful work. The post elected the commander, senior vice commander and adjutant as delegates to the state convention in Philadelphia August 21-25.

The term "fillbuster" originally meant a buccancer or freebooter, according to Encyclopedia Britannica. American adventurers who took part in West Indian and Central American revolutions after the Mexican war, were known as fillbusters.

IN THE OPEN

The true outdoorsman is plagued with a curious bump that far outweighs all other sections of his cranium. He is never satisfied until he knows what lies beyond the next hill or until he has personally explored all the inaccessible woodland for miles around his home base. At great expense to his clothes, his appearance and even at times his dignity, he blunders across streams and thru mud and mire to satisfy himself that he has not overlooked any rare blooms in the next hollow.

For several seasons I have been intrigued by a stretch of woodland that borders the valley stream at a spot particularly hard to get at on foot. We explored an upper corner of this steep, rocky area last fall and found it to be a paradise for the ferns of the district. Rumor has it that copperheads infest the rocks, and I doubt if a single two-legged "critter" has been in this woods since last hunting season.

Lazy, Humid Summer Day
The week-end brought a lazy, humid summer day that argued against any trips too far afield. It seemed a perfect opportunity for the first assault on that wooded hillside, lying dark and mysterious behind the wide moated protection of the creek which skirts its base. It would be necessary to get across that creek somewhere, so I pulled on knee boots and heavy corduroys, with long sleeved shirt to fend off insects, and started out.

Along the way I noted the tall meadow rue coming into bloom by the roadside. Wild hydrangea was never more showy than it is this wet season, and that old favorite, Brown Susan, was showing up in the fields and waste places. The raspberries were turning red in the clusters, pointing to a pleasant annual change next week, sugar or no sugar. Arriving at the bend where the red dog roadway comes closest to the objective, I turned the car and parked by the railroad tracks perhaps a quarter-mile from the creek.

Crops Ripening
On the gentle slope to the stream stood fields of oats and ripening wheat, separated by an orange-hued "fence" which had been a hedge many years ago but is now an aisle of full grown lustrous trees. I had no idea where to strike the creek, so followed along this dividing line water weed reputed to be effective when applied as a deterrent to poison ivy itching. A sprawling dead-fall offered a comfortable seat in the branches high above the undergrowth. Here I sat and dozed for a time, while insects droned lazily all about and small wild woods birds strolled nervously.

Inertia vetoed further exploratory moves along the hillside. I recrossed the stream and headed homeward. Now that the ice is broken I plan to strike up a real friendship with that woodland. Perhaps there's still more "gold in them thar hills!" SASSY-FRAS

Huge Amount Of Subsidies Knocked Out

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—Nearly a billion and a half dollars worth of federal subsidies designed to hold down retail prices of major food items in the 1946 fiscal year were knocked out with expiration of the price control law.

This was disclosed today by the agriculture department which said that the biggest subsidy program—$33 million dollars for livestock slaughter payments—was ordered to allow higher prices to farmers without increasing retail meat costs.

It was pointed out that lacking the government subsidy payments, farmers would naturally ask higher prices for their animals.

The subsidy was paid to slaughterers by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and enabled them to pay the farmer-producer more for his animals. The government estimated that the subsidy reduced the retail cost of meat by 10 percent.

An agriculture department official said, however, that the government's support price programs—a form of subsidy—was not effected by OPA's death. These programs, on 16 major food items, are covered in separate legislation and are paid out only to support prices to farmers when a food item is in surplus and prices drop.

Second largest food subsidy payment which died with OPA was in dairy production. It was established at an annual cost of $34 million dollars to offset farmers' increased cost of production and to encourage the output of more dairy products.

Other Subsidies

Following are the other subsidy programs automatically terminated by the expiration of OPA, based on the 1946 fiscal year:

1. Canned and frozen vegetables—40 million dollars paid to processors of such items as canned snap beans, tomatoes, sweet corn, peas and frozen peas, beans, corn, etc.
2. Dry edible beans—four million 600 thousand dollars paid to dealers to insure farmers higher prices.
3. Flour—190 millions to stabilize flour and bread prices. Paid to millers by RFC, estimated to reduce bread prices by about one cent a loaf and flour by nine cents per 10 pounds.
4. Sheep and lambs—36 millions annually paid to owners of live animals to encourage lamb feeding and heavier weight animals, reflecting about six cents a pound at retail levels.
5. Peanut oils—10 and a half millions to crushers.
6. Raisins and prunes—21 and a half millions to packers.
7. Regional fluid milk—Paid to 13 urban markets (some of which, including New York metropolitan area have been discontinued) at cost of 13 millions. This was paid to handlers when price increases to farmer-producers were mandatory under federal regulations.
8. Soybeans—48 millions to processors to permit increased grower returns.

County Drivers Lose Their Cards

One New Castle motorist and one driver from Ellwood City lost their operating licenses during the week ending June 21, the bureau of highway safety announced today.

The local driver had his license revoked for intoxication, while the Ellwood City motorist was arrested for speeding, and had his card suspended.

During the period, the bureau withdrew the cards of 270 drivers, of which 38 were revoked and 232 suspended. Operating privileges were restored to 293 drivers, with one of these being a New Castle resident.

MARK HISTORIC SITES
HARRISBURG, Pa. — (INS)—Pennsylvania's historic landmarks will be marked by the State Historical Museum Commission at a cost of $75,000. One thousand markers have been ordered for historic sites including Daniel Boone's homestead near Reading; the Brandywine battle field and 15 other Revolutionary War landmarks; Carlisle Barracks, the nation's oldest military post; burial place at Litz of John Sutter, discoverer of California gold; Robert Fulton's birthplace near Peach Bottom; and the Indian Gap Military Reservation.

ARMY AND NAVY IN VIRTUAL POOL OF SCIENCE DATA

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—The war and navy departments announced Wednesday a virtual merger of the two services in the field of scientific research and development.

War Secretary Patterson and Navy Secretary Forrestal disclosed establishment of a joint research and development board to combine scientific projects and to limit overlapping of experimentation.

The new board is headed by Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institute. The first meeting was held today.

One object of the joint board is to promote joint army-navy projects which have increased in recent months.

Patterson before entering today's conference said that creation of the board is "an important step toward effective coordination of research by the army and navy." He said that there would be no "unnecessary duplication" pointing out that this is inevitable when the two services go their own way.

MOUSE TROUBLE
MOULTREE, Ga. — (INS)—Customary reasons for crop failure—"too hot, too cold, too wet or too dry"—are out in the Moultrie area when it comes to watermelons. The farmers are putting the blame on Minnie Mouse's country cousin, Mame. They say the field mice dig up the seeds as fast as they can plant them.

Navy Aviation Program Extended

Enlistments for the U. S. navy's aviation training program have been extended until the end of July, it was announced today by Lt. Comdr. David A. Hemmery of the fourth naval district procurement office.

The navy is offering young men between the ages of 17 and 20 a new college program. Men are now being enlisted immediately on a conditional basis where they may start college for a period of two years with all tuition, books, fees, etc., to be paid by the navy. In addition, the young men will receive $50 a month pay allowance. They will be permitted to attend an accredited college in the United States as an apprentice seaman on inactive duty in civilian clothes. It was also stated that following flight training as midshipmen trainees become commissioned en-signs and serve one year with the fleet as flying officers. Commander Hemmery declared that this enlistment extension will be the last opportunity for young men to take advantage of the new navy college training program. Naturally one should never immerse an electric toaster or any other piece of electrical equipment in water. Remove crumbs from the toaster with a soft brush. Never hold it upside down or shake it violently.

Warren Woman Found Strangled In New York City

Patrolman Shoots Self After Body Of Woman Is Discovered
In Street

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—Police were still seeking a solution today in the bizarre case of a patrolman who shot himself six hours after leaving a woman strangled in the street in Manhattan's Grand Central terminal district.

The strangled victim was identified as Mrs. Katherine McDannah Miller, 42, a practical nurse at Warren, Pa.

The patrolman, Mariano Abello, 35, with a 10-year perfect record on the force and father of an 11-year-old girl, lies near death with a bullet in his brain. Unless he recovers the mystery may never be cleared up.

Abello's patrol car, with one tire flat, was found at 5 a. m. yesterday, abandoned a few feet away from Mrs. Miller's body. A search for a private automobile commandeered by the patrolman led to relative's home where Abello fired a bullet into his mouth when he was cornered at 1 p. m. by fellow patrolmen.

The owner of the commandeered car quoted Abello as saying: "I'm in a jam—I killed a woman."

Abello, still in a coma early today, was given little chance of survival. Police said Mrs. Miller was strangled from her husband. They found a small suitcase she had checked at Grand Central May 31.

Credit Police
For Impressive Safety Record

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(INS)—The city of Kansas City—has one of the nation's best records for keeping down traffic fatalities.

A lot of credit for this goes to the police department which made the public conscious that life is precious.

Traffic rules are rigidly enforced. Pedestrians don't walk against any traffic signal. They walk only when the signal gives them the green light.

Perhaps one of the most impressive reactions of visitors from near and far is the way police department's accident prevention car—all automobile painted white—operates and with success.

It tours the city, and keeps the law observed.

Motorists Warned
It is equipped with a loud speaker atop its roof, and the car's operators let one and all know when the automobile or truck driver is violating the rules.

For instance:
Some cars are parked, perhaps inadvertently, in a zone where there is to be no parking. The police car drives up, and the occupants survey the situation.

Then, the loudspeaker warns:
"There is no parking in this area. Let's move these cars. You're subjecting yourself to a fine unless you do. Come on, let's move these cars."

Warning Is Repeated
Some of the motorists hear the warning. They answer, get in their cars and drive out of the restricted zone.

Some don't answer the police call immediately. Perhaps they didn't hear it the first time.

The warning is repeated once, repeated twice, perhaps a third time. By the third warning, the cars are on their way.

Girl Is Killed In Fourth Celebration At Philadelphia

Struck By Mortar Shell During Celebration; Investigations Are Under Way

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—(INS)—Two investigations were pushed today into the death of 13-year-old Angeline Piccone, who was killed instantly when she was struck by a mortar shell during Philadelphia's mammoth Fourth of July celebration.

The girl was decapitated as two sand-filled mortars overshoot their mark in a demonstration by the Chemical Warfare Service.

As Philadelphia police and the army's protest marshal probed her death, First Lieut. John Pusinar of Edgewood arsenal, Mr. was held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Angeline, who lived at 644 N. 53rd street, attended the outing with her mother, Rose; a brother and Frank Zingani and his family.

The other shell landed between Zingani and his four-year-old son, both of whom miraculously escaped injury.

The shell—supposed to travel only about 60 feet—zoomed through the air more than 135 feet.

Park guards said they were attempting to move the crowd out of the restricted area when the shell landed.

Zingani, however, said: "No one warned us it was a restricted area. If it was, there were park guards standing there. There were no signs to say it was a danger area."

More than a dozen women became hysterical as the missile plummeted into their midst.

Gen. Marshall's Peace Efforts Are Handicapped

NANKING, July 5.—(INS)—Efforts of Gen. George C. Marshall to negotiate a lasting peace in China's internal strife were complicated today by a dispute involving presence of Chinese communist troops in North Kiangsu province, only 30 miles northeast of Nanking.

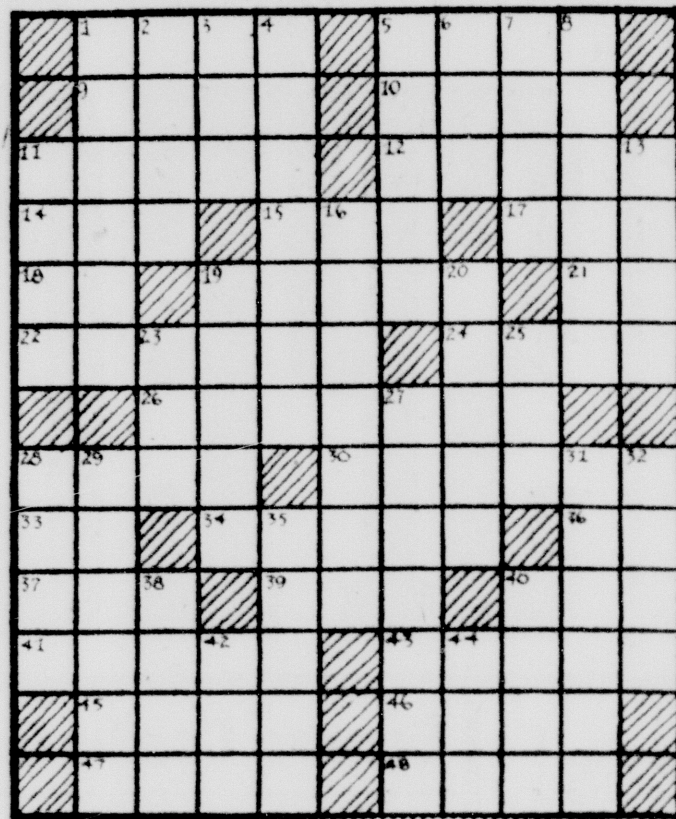

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is understood to have demanded that the communist forces immediately evacuate the area and remove a military threat to the national capital.

Both communists and nationalists reported renewed outbreaks of local fighting in Shantung province along the Tsinan-Tsingtao railroad.

Territorial demands by both sides have blocked Marshall's plans for a peace settlement and it was in disputed areas that the latest outbreaks of fighting were reported.

Fewer Horses, Sheep, Mules On Many State Farms

HARRISBURG—Substantial decreases in the number of horses, mules and sheep are reported on Pennsylvania farms between the United States census of 1940 and 1945, the State Department of Agriculture announced from preliminary figures now available from last year's agricultural census.

More than offsetting the declines for such farm animals are the increases reported for all cattle and calves, cows and heifers milked, and all hogs and pigs, the advance reports reveal.

The January 1945 census showed that only about 14,000 Pennsylvania farms reported 27,679 mules and mule colts. The April 1, 1940 census reported 20,119 farms had 44,109.

Horse numbers on Pennsylvania farms dropped about 54,000 in the 5-year period, the census figures show. In 1940 there were 102,602 farms reporting a total of 255,651 horses, colts and ponies. By 1945 there were 16,443 fewer farms with horses and the total number had dropped to 201,608.

During the 5-year period about 1,500 farms quit raising quantities of sheep. The 9,990 farms that still had sheep last reported 279,978 compared with 334,661 at the time of the 1940 census. Ewes declined by 67,340 to 175,119.

IN THE CHIPS
SACRAMENTO, Calif.—(INS)—California state workers have received three salary increases since the beginning of the war: two of them this year. Rises have been granted of $25 to those earning under $300 per month and $20 to those earning over $300, followed by a blanket raise of $15, and recently a $10 per month increase a month.

FAVORS SESSION TO ENACT STATE OPA LEGISLATION
PITTSBURGH, July 5.—(INS)—Democratic State Sen. Joseph Barr Wednesday said he would readily sign a legislative petition calling for an emergency session of the state legislature to enact a state OPA law.

When told that Sen. H. Jerome Jaspas (D) Philadelphia, was planning to introduce such a petition, Barr declared:

"Not only would I sign a petition calling for a special session for a state OPA bill but also for a number of other matters that need straightened out."

Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D) Pittsburgh, was unavailable for comment but it was learned he sent a telegram to Gov. Edward Martin last Monday demanding that the administration take some action following the death of the OPA.

Effort To Free Toll Bridges In State Fails

HARRISBURG, July 5.—(INS)—The Commonwealth's 15-year-old fight to free ten toll bridges ended in failure today under a decision handed down in Dauphin county court.

The ruling declared unconstitutional an act of the general assembly in 1931 which allocated $7,000,000 from the motor license fund for the acquisition program.

The court ruled that a constitutional amendment approved by the electorate last year prohibited the use of the fund for toll bridge acquisition.

The decision, which will become final in ten days unless exceptions are filed, sustained the contention of the Peoples Bridge Co., of Harrisburg, that the state highways department could not purchase any bridge until it was determined whether all could be bought for the sum set forth in the enabling legislation sponsored by Republican Senators M. Harvey Taylor, of Dauphin, and Genroe N. Wade, of Cumberland.

The move to free the toll bridges started in 1931 during the administration of former governor Gifford Pinchot.

Judge Robert E. Woodside returned a decision which invalidated the Commonwealth's toll bridge acquisition program on the grounds that a constitutional amendment approved by the electorate in November, 1945, limited the use of the motor license fund to highway maintenance, and construction and airport development.

The court's decision emphasized that there was no provision in the amendment which could be construed to embrace toll bridge acquisition.

The bridges which were earmarked by the department for purchase were at Harrisburg (2), Bethlehem (2), and one each at Allentown, Point Merion, Charlestown, Ellwood City, Sunbury and Clarks Ferry.

Further expansion of one of Mexico's largest cotton spinning, weaving and finishing firms is announced.

Thwart Effort To Slip Speech Before Trial

NUERNBERG, July 5.—(INS)—An apparent attempt by Defense Attorney Alfred Seidl to slip through a last political speech before the international war crimes tribunal was thwarted today by the watchfulness and presence of mind of Chief Justice Geoffrey Lawrence.

Seidl, counsel for Rudolf Hess and Hans Frank, was shut off and told to prepare his summation anew for later presentation when he repeatedly attacked the Versailles treaty and ignored several warnings from Sir Geoffrey.

The defense lawyer failed to give the usual English translation of his address in advance to the court, and spoke in his native tongue, apparently in the hope that he would not be understood by the allied jurists.

Authoritative German lawyers believe that Seidl made a deliberate attempt to deliver his "politically hot" speech at the urging of both Hess and ex-Reichsmarshal Hermann Goerring.

Seidl had spoken only five minutes when the court ruled him out of order for attacking the Versailles treaty as "unjust and illegal." He was told to draw up a new summation for another day, and make sure the English translation was available for the court before he started.

Former Ordnance Chief Testifies In War Contracts Probe

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. L. H. Campbell Jr., former chief of ordnance, told the Mead committee today that Rep. May (D) Ky., chairman of the house military committee introduced Henry M. Garson to him over the telephone in November, 1942.

Campbell testified that Garson, a key figure in the group of Illinois companies whose war contracts are being investigated by the committee, came to his office after May telephoned and introduced him.

Campbell said that Garson desired "some sort" of munitions contract, and that he referred him to Brig. Gen. Roswell Hardy, who was in charge of munitions procurement.

May Interested
The former ordnance chief, now retired from the army, also told the committee that he gave Garson a note introducing him to Brig. Gen. F. S. Hammond, chief of the Chicago ordnance district. In the note, Campbell testified he told Hammond that May was interested in Garson.

Campbell read into the record a long distance telephone conversation between Gen. Hammond in Chicago and a Maj. Gordon, identified only as an ordnance officer in Washington.

In the conversation Campbell said Gordon referred again to May's interest in Garson. He quoted Gordon in the telephone conversation as saying:

"Congressman May called Gen. Campbell's office today and wanted to arrange with an interview with you for a Dr. Garson."

"Dr. Garson is connected with Batavia Metal Products in Batavia, Ill. We're unable to find out what he wants to talk about."

Campbell continued that in the conversation Gordon also said that "this congressman wants very much for him to talk to you."

Garson is not a constituent of May. He is called Dr. Garson because of an honorary degree given by St. Lawrence College.

Cardinals And Yankees Fail To Gain In Holiday Doubleheaders

PIRATES REDS SPLIT TWIN BILL

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—Independence Day usually marks the turning point in the pennant races and there is a popular belief—which is by no means always borne out—that the leaders on that date will carry through to win.

However, popular belief finds strong support this year for the very good reason that none of the trailing teams seems to have enough to catch the front runners. At least, none has yet shown anything to indicate its run to the wire will be any faster than the first half.

No Ground Gained
The first three teams in each league remained just as they were in the doubleheaders. In the American, the Red Sox stopped a four game losing streak by beating the A's 9-8 after dropping the opener, 3-2. The aroused Red Sox really went on a rampage in that second game, getting 19 hits, and during the long afternoon, Ted Williams managed to insert his 21st and 22nd home runs.

The Yanks remained stationary by splitting a pair of shutouts with the Senators. The Senators took the first, 2-0, behind Dutch Leonard's five hit pitching and the Yanks the second, 3-0, behind Joe Page's 4-hit pitch job.

Tigers-Indians Split
The Browns came from behind to win their first test with the White Sox, 4-1, and copped the second, 3-2.

The Tigers just missed taking a pair from the Indians but had to be satisfied with a split when their three-run rally in the ninth fell short in the tiebreaker. The Tigers' game of the first, 8-4, blew the second, 2-0.

Cubs-Cards Divide
The Cubs beat the Cardinals 4-2 on Billy Jurges hitting and then bowled, 6-1, to Red Barrett who needed some help from Howie Pollet.

Cesar Judd pitched the Phils to a 7-0 shutout over the Braves. Dick Mulholland gave them the second, 3-2. The Pirates took the Reds 6-1 and then dropped the second, 4-3 in 11 innings.

Come Early!

WHEN the civic committee for organized recreation conducts a pugilistic pageant at Taggart stadium, the night of July 25, it is anticipated it will have attracted the largest crowd in the boxing history of the city. Chairman Ed. Fritz and C. M. England have organized their committee. City Treasurer B. N. Hanlon has organized his ticket crew and Matchmaker Tommy Leach already has made several of the matches to be staged by amateur gladiators. The ring will be illuminated by Earl Ligo electrician. Bob Mills has arranged to man the ticket windows and Bob McBurney will direct the ushers. Arthur Alexander who looks after the welfare of children at playgrounds will help the turnstiles. Bob Stewart, school officer, and Robert D. Hanna, chief of police, will have a capable force of police present. Fire Chief James E. Thomas will cooperate with city firemen, according to plans already made.

The chairman has designated committeemen to help the project along because it is entirely for the benefit of city recreation funds. Through the funds raised, it will be possible to increase recreation facilities here. No one affiliated with the promotion, which has the approval of the city recreation commission, will receive any compensation, excepting the 16 boxers, who will receive training expenses. They will come from Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Akron, Ellwood City, New Castle and other cities. City Treasurer Hanlon is in charge of all monies and after the pageant will make a public report. The chairman has called a meeting of representatives of all of the clubs and fraternal organizations in the city for 8 o'clock Monday night in city hall. Each club or organization represented will be added to the civic committee for organized recreation. According to "past performances" they always have cooperated with worthy moves and because there is a real need for additional recreational facilities here, it is probable that every club will be represented and when the night of July 25 arrives, members of their respective organizations will be at the stadium. The object of the boxing carnival will be explained fully at Monday's meeting. There is no questioning that there is a need for additional recreation here. In helping the show, people will receive something for their money.

The chairmen have named a committee, to which will be added, names of the various representatives of the different organizations, who attend the meeting Monday night in city hall. Those already named to the committee are as follows: William James, Earl Ligo, Rex Hughes, Thomas Leach, Robert Mills, Robert McBurney, B. N. Hanlon, Jack Grizzle, Ralph Audino, Norman Freeborn, Maurice Mackley, Dr. M. P. McCann, L. B. Round, Dan Carroll, M. J. Dillie, Thomas Flanagan, James Smith, Jr., Ivor Davis, Jimmy Dunn, Joseph Travers, Frank Coen, Robert Lamore, Charles Walther, Alec Samuels, Roger W. Rowland, Richard E. Renitz, John C. Moore, George Chip, Frank T. Sargent, W. G. McMullen, B. J. Biondi, John C. Young, John Wajert, Battling Terry, Speer Maroviss, Eddie Myers, Robert D. Hanna, Bart Richards, William Millson, Francis Keefe, Ed. Raney, Dr. James A. Gillespie, Eddie Connery, P. H. Bridenbaugh, Preston Flaherty, D. O. Davies, Albert A. Hoyland, James Gibson, Roy Donaldson, Peter J. McGinty, Gus Slovinsky, Robert Gowell, Joseph Frenzel, Ed. Brundage, Thomas Jones, Samuel Sheriff and Al Francis.

To the foregoing committee, will be added the names of others who will represent the clubs and fraternal organizations Monday night in city hall and others in various sections of the city who are cooperating with the movement. In connection with the matches, it was reported to the chairmen today by Matchmaker Leach that, he already has arranged to have the classy heavyweight, Don George of Johnstown box Joe Ciryak of Cleveland. Ciryak has not boxed here but made a good showing recently in a bout at Meadville, while George found favor with fans here when he boxed in The Arena. He has also matched George Kolark of Cleveland to take on Terry Sharp, also of Johnstown, at 150 pounds. It is likely that over the week-end he will have made additional matches.

Robinson Looks At Racing World Finds Oddities

President Of Saratoga Race Track Has One Large Headache Ahead

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, July 5.—Hot off the Broadway grille today, Skiddy Von Slade, president of the Saratoga Racing Association, already has famous old Spa track ready for sale reopening next month.

But Skiddy has several large headaches coming up. Sixteen per cent tax bite has caused mutual handle to fall off more than $500,000 a day at New York tracks. And Saratoga must handle at least $800,000 a day to break even. And now the up-state county supervisors are taking a tit from New York City. They have slapped a five per cent plaster on Spa racing.

Plenty of Moola
Skiddy says it takes $600,000 a day to operate the track. . . of which $35,000 goes to the horsemen in purses. . . purses have to be big to induce the Whitneys, Vanderbills and Co. to ship their hot burners to the Spa. . .

Nevertheless, Skiddy predicts there will be 2,000 horses at the Spa. . . he can bed and board the horses easily enough. . . but feeding the humans is quite a problem. . . oh, well, the punters can sleep with the horses. . . if the horses don't object. . . and munch a few oats if they go broke. . .

Pays in Advance
And speaking of punters reminds us that old Charley Rose. . . the tight manager who will hit one of those six-horse parlays if he lives long enough. . . is one man who's not worrying about the rent. . . with or without the OPA. . . Charley who has more superstitions than Mae West has clippings. . . always pays his hotel bill a full year in advance. . .

He did that one when he had some loose change a few years ago and had such a big year thereafter that he kept on repeating. . . And there's nothing to that yarn that Eddie Arcaro. . . America's No. 1 jockey. . . currently working on his second half million. . . has a bum shoulder. . . if he had a loose shoulder, how could he pilot those babies home so often. . . when the price is right? . .

Arms Off No Handicap
Still, old Cozy Turner. . . veteran reinsman now at the Roosevelt Speedway. . . has been driving trotters for many years and he has both arms off below the elbows. . . he simply twists the reins around the stumps above the elbows. . . and get along there Dabbin. . .

Colt Matt Winn, who's just turned 85. . . is planning to enlarge Churchill Downs. . . probably hoping to have it big enough to suit him for his hundredth birthday. . .

One of Those Things
And when polo was resumed at Bostwick Field. . . on Long Island the other day. . . Bob Kelly, who may be the last who invented the game. . . had to pay to get in. . . because there were new employees on the gate. . .

Only lads who favor blazer and better race taxes are the bookies. . . who are again shopping for those big beautiful limousines. . . and the lonesome birds at the track these days. . . are the ticket sellers at the $100 and $50 mutual windows. . . sigh. . .

That Broadway report that Billy Conn's manager Johnny Ray lost $40,000 on the horses and a big chunk on the recent Louis-Conn fight (?) can be classed as a silly symphony. . .

Ellwood Moose First-Half Champs At Sylvan Heights

Final Reckoning Shows Them Two Points Ahead In Last Match Played Wednesday Eve

Ellwood City Moose emerged victorious in the first half race in the Sylvan Heights Golf League, when they split even with the Duce D'Abuzzi team, 3-3, giving them enough points to stay two games ahead of the idle United Engineering and Foundry team, and New Castle Moose, last year's champions.

United Engineering, after leading the league all season, drew a bye for the last night of play, due to the dropping out earlier in the season of the Ellwood City Elks team, and thus earned no points.

New Castle Moose, with a mathematical chance to win, tried hard in their match with Sons of Italy, but the best they could do was to score a 4-2 victory.

In other matches, Vernors defeated Standard Steel Spring, 4-2, to climb out of the cellar at the expense of Johnson Bronze, which lost to Universal Sanitary Manufacturing, 4-1.

Carl McIlrort, George Sargent and Fred Palmer topped medalist honors with par rounds of 36, while Tiny Lombardo, Fred Lombardo had 38s, and Art Proletti had a 39.

The unofficial standing for the first half is as follows:

Ellwood City Moose	31½
United Engineering	29½
New Castle Moose	29½
Sons of Italy	29½
Vernors	23½
Duce D'Abuzzi	22½
Universal Sanitary Mfg.	21
Standard Steel Spring	15
Johnson Bronze	14½

Pottery Golfers Open Second-Half At Castle Hills

Ange Cimino Medalist With 35 In Defeating End Long As New Half Begins

Shenango Pottery golfers unleashed their best games of the season so far at the Castle Hills course Wednesday evening as they scrambled for position at the beginning of the second half. Ange Cimino was medalist with a par 35 on the front nine.

The rejuvenated Franklin squad, led by Cimino, who edged out Bud Long in a stellar match decided on the last green, surged to the top of the heap as they swamped the Castletons 4-1. Hasenstab, Fletcher, and DeRosa contributed the other points.

The first half championship Incens are finding point-getting a tougher problem lately as they managed to salvage just 1½ from the Shepocos. Lavon and Ritchie with a 42 and 44 respectively on the back nine paced the Shepocos. In the other match played, Captain Chuck Ferry shot a fine 39 to win his match easily but that turned out to be the only point garnered by the Havillands as they tangled with the Chinas.

The Zeisels drew a bye for the evening brought about by the withdrawal of the Shenango team from the league because of sore backs and advanced age.

Low net for evening's play was captured by three of the Franklin stars: Cimino 35-2-33, Emil (Flying Dutchman) Hasenstab 41-8-33, and DeRosa with a 46-13-33. The league standings to date: Franklin—8; Zeisel—8; Luca—6½; Shepoco—5½; Castleton—5½; China—4½; and Haviland—2.

That Broadway report that Billy Conn's manager Johnny Ray lost $40,000 on the horses and a big chunk on the recent Louis-Conn fight (?) can be classed as a silly symphony.

West Penn-Ohio Roundup July 20 Season Success

Youngstown First, Castle Hills Second In League, For First Year Of Play

TAM O'SHANTER ROUNDUP SCENE

Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio amateur golf league members will gather at the Tam O'Shanter clubhouse at West Middlesex, on Saturday afternoon, July 20, for a gigantic closing "roundup" at 2 o'clock and will follow with a turkey dinner at Villa Nova at 8 o'clock. It was decided at an executive meeting of the league held Wednesday.

The league was a tremendous success in its first season of organization—Youngstown Ma-Fe finished first with a perfect record of 16 wins and no defeats; Castle Hills was second with 12 and 8; Tam O'Shanter fourth with 5 and 15; and Warren last with 4 and 16.

George Savill, vice-president of the league, was host Wednesday as the golfers talked over the first years and set the "Roundup" date. James Jimmy Ludwig, secretary of the league and assistant manager at Castle Hills represented the president.

Dr. Bellino-F. Palmer Stars
Frankie Bitez, of the executive committee and a demon statistician, came up with the following information on the league for the first year.

Dr. Frank (Chips) Bellino, of the championship Youngstown Ma-Fe club was the low average man for the season, all five matches with a 74.2, while Captain Fred Palmer, one of New Castle's finest amateur golfers was runner-up with a season average of 74.8 both highly commendable averages over a five-game stretch. In the third place was Steve Pipoly of Youngstown with an average of 75 for all the five matches.

Ted Lach Medalist
Individual medal honors for the league went to young Teddy Lach of this city, 22-year-old turnace salesman, who shot his sensational 68 card at Castle Hills course in the second match of the season, a 33-35 card, four under the Castle Hills par 72.

There were three men tied for the most points for the five games—Dr. Frank (Chips) Bellino, Fred Palmer and Joe Battafano all with 92 points.

The low team average for the year was won by Youngstown's Ma-Fe club, with 76.26.

Gerson Presents Trophy
The following events will be up for prizes at the Tam O'Shanter "Roundup"—Low four on each team, two in low four another team, medalist for day, blind bogey 70 to 85; least number of putts, closest to hole on 18; longest drive on number 10.

Jack Gerson, local jeweler, has donated a beautiful trophy to the champions in the league, the Youngstown Ma-Fe club. It is hoped to have the trophy for presentation at the banquet on the 20th.

The long-driving former Marine had to post a birdie three on the 375-yard first hole to win the first honors from Al Neveraskas of Pittsburgh. Both players finished the regulation 36 holes with 145 totals.

Announce North County Contests

Charles Bishop, vice-president of the North County Baseball League, today announced the opening pairings of the loop beginning the second half of play.

Sunday, July 7, Hickory Heights will be at New Bedford, St. Margarets go to Union, Pulaski meets East Brook at the Brookers diamond and Mine No. 5 moves into Nashua. New Wilmington draws a bye for this date.

Tuesday, July 9, Nashua goes to St. Margarets, East Brook trots to New Wilmington, New Bedford is at Pulaski and Union plays Hickory Heights at the latter's field.

Hickory Heights, St. Margarets and Mine No. 5 are new additions to the league for the second half of play. The loop will use County Association umpires for the remainder of the season, the vice-president announced.

New Wilmington Winners In First Half Loop Race

Manager Howard Rodgers and his New Wilmington club took first honors in the North County league, winning two play-off games to wind up the first part of the season's work.

June 28 the league leaders posed out Pulaski, 8-7, with Bush hitting a six-killer, and Tuesday, July 2, they again defeated the Pulaski club, 7-5, with Sewall the winning pitcher.

Dubber Dollies Playing Tonight

Another Friday night and the Dubber Dollies will go to the Castle Hills course for a round of golf at 5:30 o'clock. It was announced by Jeanie Webster, who is in charge of the Dollies this season.

A large turnout is looked for this evening as the women golfers become more interested in the league of four fine teams.

Predicts Congress Will Pass Measure For Terminal Pay

Colorado Senator Forecasts Favorable Action On GI Measure
By Congress

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—Sen. Johnson D. Col. predicted today that congress will pass the budget-straining GI terminal leave pay bill before it goes home for elections—with or without administration endorsement.

Johnson, in charge of the two to three and a half billion dollar bill now pending in the senate military committee, disclosed that he had given the budget bureau a "deadline" of next Tuesday to go on record for or against the measure.

The house-approved legislation would permit enlisted personnel of World War II to collect lump sum payment for unused leave, up to a maximum of 120 days. It has been estimated that some 11 million GIs would draw an average of $250 each, or a total of two billion 750 million dollars.

Estimates On Cost
Johnson's own estimates range from a low of two billion to a high of three and a half billion dollars. Congressional authorities con-

ed that regardless of any effect the pay bill might have on inflation of the 1947 federal budget, they did not expect the White House to take a firm stand against it.

Johnson said the bill was "sure to pass the senate" and voiced belief that even a presidential veto would be overridden.

The bill sailed through the house by a vote of 380 to 9 on June 11 after former Budget Director Harold Smith had declined to recommend its passage.

House and senate members publicly were convinced that enlisted personnel were entitled to terminal leave pay just as well as officers, who now receive it under existing law.

Privately many of them were just as certain that an election year was no time to go on record against legislation aiding 11 million potential voters.

A senate military subcommittee headed by Johnson already has tentatively approved the bill but the full committee deferred final action until it hears from the budget bureau.
